

RIVER RECEDES: GAS SERVICE IS RESTORED

Quarter Billion More for Relief Asked

F. D. R. WANTS 250 MILLION FOR PURPOSE

Requests Congress Appropriate Sum Speedily

Washington, Feb. 10.—(AP)—President Roosevelt asked Congress today for immediate appropriation of $250,000,000 to meet relief needs during the next four and a half months.

"Funds available at this time," the president wrote Speaker Bankhead, "will not only not take care of the additional burden caused by the recent increase in unemployment but will require a sharp reduction in the near future of the number on the works progress administration rolls."

WPA officials, anticipating the president's request, said most of the money would be used in industrial centers, especially the automobile manufacturing centers.

The money would be in addition to approximately $497,000,000 which WPA now has remaining from its original allotment for this fiscal year.

"The funds available on Jan. 1, 1938," said the president, "would permit employment of an average of only 1,700,000 persons for the six months ending June 30, 1938. The number of persons on the works progress administration rolls today is 1,950,000."

WPA officials said the sum Mr. Roosevelt asked would enable them to give relief to an average of 1,000,000 people during the four and a half month period. Because of heavy winter demands, they added, more than 1,000,000 probably would be added now with curtailments in the spring.

The same officials have reported that if additional funds were not forthcoming they planned to prune the rolls down to 1,500,000 by the end of the fiscal year. The WPA announced there were 68,479 more persons on federal relief on January 29 than there were a week before.

Would Permit Employment
The president informed Bankhead that a deficiency appropriation of $250,000,000 would "permit the continued employment" during the remainder of the fiscal year, ending June 30, of persons now on work relief and would "provide a reasonable measure of relief for those who have recently become unemployed and are in need."

The president said that according to the best available estimate "it appears that, during the past three months, approximately 3-

'CARRIE NATION' OF ALTON JAIL-ED BY OFFICERS

Alton, Ill., Feb. 10.—(AP)—Mrs. Irene Kite, buxom blonde ax-wielder and slot machine wrecker, was in jail today.

The "Carrie Nation" of the slot machines was taken in custody on two bench warrants issued in the county court on information by State's Attorney Lester Geers charging her with malicious injury to personal property and peace disturbance.

Mrs. Kite made no attempt to fix bond, declaring "I will stay in jail a day or two."

Arrested and placed in jail at Edwardsville along with Mrs. Kite was Clarence Madry, who accompanied her on several tavern raids.

Charges against the pair were based on Mrs. Kite's most recent raid, in which she smashed a slot machine in the tavern of Louis Vanzo in Edwardsville. Previously she had wrecked seven other machines here.

Longshoremen In Puerto Rico Back At Work Today

San Juan, Puerto Rico, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Puerto Rico's longshoremen, on strike since January 5, went back to work this afternoon under a proposal for an immediate wage increase and arbitration of other differences with their steamship company employees.

Fred Myers of New York, vice-president of the C. I. O.-affiliated national maritime union, and Labor Commissioner Rivera Martinez, who also is insular vice-president for the American Federation of Labor, conferred at length last night with Gov. Blanton Winship, author of the settlement plan.

Myers and Martinez were reported to have informed Winship the A. F. of L. would be the sole contracting agent for the workers in arbitration of the dispute. Myers said, however, that the C. I. O. "is in Puerto Rico to stay."

FARMER SUICIDED

Millersburg, Ill., Feb. 10.—(AP)—A suicide verdict was returned today after an investigation of the death of Clarence Lamoreaux, 63, a farmer. His body was found in his home near here. A coroner's jury decided he was shot with a shotgun slumped in a vice and discharged by pushing the trigger with a stick.

Climbing

Washington, Feb. 10.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's request for an additional $250,000,000 for relief indicated today the treasury's deficit would amount to about $1,544,000,000 by June 30, the end of the fiscal year.

This figure is based on Roosevelt's January 3 budget estimate plus today's request. Last year the deficit was $2,811,318,310 on June 30.

Deducting estimated expenditures for debt retirement, the net deficit is expected to climb to $1,388,000,000, compared with $2,707,347,110 last year.

JAPAN HINTS AT QUANTITATIVE LIMITATIONS

Tokyo, Feb. 10.—(AP)—A Japanese spokesman indicated today Japan would endorse a world naval agreement limiting the number of warships of world powers.

"If the powers would approach Japan with the idea of quantitative limitation upon armaments, it would make a favorable impression," the spokesman said in discussing means to end the threat of a world naval-building race.

Giving his personal view of Japan's disagreement in principle with the request by the United States, Great Britain and France for Japanese naval-building information, the naval informant said:

"It would in effect bind our country with qualitative limitation, and if we refuse, then the powers concerned are going to make it a pretext for expansion on imaginary grounds that we also are expanding."

Qualitative limitation (limiting the size of warships) would be in contradiction to Japan's stand at the London naval conference, he said.

The 1936 London naval treaty limits warships to 35,000 tons and cruisers to 8,000 tons. The three inquiring powers seek to learn whether Japan is constructing or

Rock River Chapter Of State Engineers To Meet Tomorrow

The Rock River Chapter of the Illinois Society of Engineers will hold its first annual meeting Friday evening at the Elks club house in this city. A banquet will be served at 7 o'clock which is expected to be attended by between 75 and 100 engineers from throughout northern Illinois. Following the banquet there will be a short business session during which officers will be elected for the coming year.

Loran D. Gayton, city engineer of the city of Chicago, will be the speaker of the evening and will speak on the subject, "Recent Developments in Engineering." Mr. Gayton is an engineer of exceptional ability and wide experience, and because of the fact that Chicago is a city in which engineering occupies a prominent position, he is qualified to address the engineers of northern Illinois on this subject.

Part of City Hall Made into Kitchen For Dixon Firemen

A portion of that section of the city hall building which at one time served as storage space for hay, straw and feed for the horse drawn fire apparatus, has been converted into a kitchen and dining room by the members of the fire department. Each member has had a part in converting the section and equipping it, and through their efforts they have developed a culinary department which would be the envy of any Dixon housewife.

In the past the firemen have prepared their meals over an antiquated gas stove which was placed in the old hay mow. Their meals were eaten in the large squad room on the second floor of the fire department. A space was partitioned off and enclosed which now serves as a combination kitchen and dining room. A new, modern gas range has been installed, with a kitchen sink and ample space for the storage of the kitchen equipment. Leo Fane built the cabinet work and all of the firemen had a part in the improvement. William Cahill has donated an electric refrigerator and several visitors are inspecting the handiwork of the fire department members and congratulating them upon their fine modern kitchenette.

CHURCHES PRAY FOR NIEMOELLER GERMAN PASTOR

Berlin, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Confessional churches continued special intercession services today in behalf of the Rev. Martin Niemoller, whose trial on charges of grave offenses against the Nazi regime is in recess until February 12.

Prayers were offered for the militant minister as well as for divine guidance for the judges that they may reach a just verdict.

Georg Staeger, state-appointed defense attorney, delivered into records of the case in preparation for resumption of the trial, halted abruptly yesterday by the minister's dismissal of his three lawyers.

Niemoller dropped his own attorneys and assumed the role of a silent martyr because of the severity enforced at his trial and intimations of the state that the defense had "reasonable" connections with foreign nations.

It was indicated that Niemoller, aroused by the "besmirching of the honor" of his counsel, would remain silent even when the trial reopened with Staeger, Berlin leader of the Nazi jurists association, in the role of defense attorney.

POISONING OF CONVICT CALLED SUICIDE TODAY

Dentist's Murderer Had Threatened To Take Life

Chester, Ill., Feb. 10.—(AP)—A coroner's jury today returned a verdict of suicidal poisoning in the death of Harold St. Clair, serving a term of 39 years at Southern Illinois penitentiary for the murder of Dr. Homer L. Meyer, Eldorado, Ill., dentist.

St. Clair, 35 years old, died late yesterday in the prison hospital. He became ill Tuesday and was removed from his cell. Prison officials expressed the belief St. Clair, reputedly a chemical engineer, extracted poison from medicines he handled during his frequent assistance in the medical care of other prisoners.

When brought to prison Nov. 17, 1934, a day after a circuit jury at Shawneetown found him guilty of a charge of murdering the dentist in June 1934, he attempted to escape at the prison gates. Leaping from an automobile filled with officers he shouted: "Shoot to kill" and ran. He was recaptured after several shots were fired, none of which hit him.

"Why didn't you do your duty and shoot to kill?" St. Clair demanded after recapture. "I would rather die than enter this place."

Previous to the November, 1934 trial, St. Clair had pleaded guilty and had been sentenced to death. Later he withdrew the plea and was granted a new trial.

Another prisoner testified at the inquest St. Clair often spoke of suicide. St. Clair never disclosed the identity of his relatives. A note left by him was confiscated by the coroner who declined to divulge what it said.

Arctic Gale Dims Hope of Saving Four Russians Adrift on An Ice Floe

Tromsø, Norway, Feb. 10.—(AP)—An Arctic gale today wiped out hope of a rescue by dog team of four Russian scientists who have drifted on an ice floe from the North Pole to a point off Greenland's east coast.

Yesterday the Russians reported they were within clear sight of the Greenland coast, and plans were made to send expeditions across the offshore ice from Norwegian and Danish stations along that coast. These were frustrated by the gale, which was reported blowing the Russians' small ice-cake southward at the rate of 30 miles a day.

Experts here said the scientists' only hope of rescue was for their floe to remain intact until it reaches water where pack ice would not impede rescue ships.

Arctic Gale Dims Hope of Saving Four Russians Adrift on An Ice Floe

San Francisco, Feb. 10.—(AP)—A howling gale struck northern California, killed five persons, injured scores of others, and caused property damage estimated today at millions of dollars.

The wind, which at several places along a 30-mile front reached almost tornado force yesterday, came as a shrieking climax to 14 days of storm. It left in its wake broken communication systems, blocked highways and railroads, and a menace of floods from additional rains, predicted for today.

Extending northward from San Luis Obispo, midway between San Francisco and Los Angeles, to the Oregon state line, the hurricane raised up mountainous waves that pounded the coast line. It tore through cities and towns and raged inland for 200 miles, causing damage even in inland valleys of the Sierra Nevada.

Three men and a woman were killed by falling trees or buildings.

Will of Charles Plein Admitted In Court Today

County Judge Martin Eakle of Oregon was called to Dixon this morning to preside at a probate hearing in the county court, at which time the will of the late Charles Plein of this city was admitted. Lee County Judge Grover W. Gehant was a witness to the will which made necessary the calling of a judge from an adjoining county in probating the instrument. Mr. Plein passed away Jan. 25 of this year.

The inventory lists real estate valued at $8,000 and personal property of the value of $5,000. The widow, Rose Plein, is named executrix of the estate, and is the beneficiary during her life time, after which the property is to be divided equally among their four daughters, as follows: Mrs. Margaret Root, Springfield, Ill.; Mrs. Christine Scanlon, Dixon; Mrs. Helen Ilet, Los Angeles, Cal.; and Miss Rosella Plein of this city. Attorney John J. Armstrong filed the will for probate.

Two Arrested In Minnesota For Drug Shipments

Minneapolis, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Federal narcotics agents today announced the arrest in southern Minnesota of two men they said conducted a nationwide business in narcotics, sending shipments to New York, Pennsylvania, Chicago and other parts of Illinois.

The two arrested, in Frost, Faribault county, were identified as Jesus Gonzales, 28, and Frank Mujica, 23. Agent Emmanuel Elbaum said a trunkful of narcotics was seized at the time of the raid.

At Long Last

Baltimore, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Twice in a year robbers entered the house in which Captain John Carey, night commander of police, lived, but they took nothing of his.

Then the captain sent a suit to be pressed. There were dozens of suits in the tailor's parked truck.

This time, the thief stole only Captain Carey's.

Reports Man Admitted Starting Fifty or More Incendiary Fires

New York, Feb. 10.—(AP)—26-year-old man, John Wade, quoted by Deputy Fire Marshal Martin Scott as admitting he had started 50 or more incendiary fires, one of which cost three lives, was arrested today.

Booked on charges of arson and homicide, Wade admitted that he became a phromaniac, said Scott, after his mother, a brother and sister perished in a fire Sept. 25, 1935. Wade denied starting that fire.

The marshal quoted him also as saying he started many fires in unoccupied baby carriages in Brooklyn apartment houses.

Good Luck

Burlington, Ia., Feb. 10.—(AP)—The good luck that saved Tom Hopewell from the bolts and dum-dum bullets of the Moros in the Philippine insurrection of 1899 and later from the perils of the Boxer rebellion in China is still with him.

Hopewell lit his pipe, drew on it and then held it out in his hand. A .22 caliber bullet mixed accidentally in the tobacco exploded, shattering the pipe and imbedded the lead pellet in the ceiling. Hopewell escaped injury.

JAPANESE OPEN MAJOR DRIVE TO SEVER RAILWAY

Shanghai, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Guns of Japan's grand campaign to choke off China's Lushan railway artery and dominate 100,000 square miles of central China thundered today on the northwestern edge of the Lushan corridor.

The major fighting of opening phases of the battle was expected to center along the Peiping-Hankow railway, which cuts across the Lushan at Chengchow, 300 miles west of the Chinese eastern coast.

Ninety miles north of Chengchow an artillery duel was in progress between Chinese and one of the eight Japanese columns aimed at the Lushan. China's main east-west railway, from the north and south.

One hundred Japanese warplanes bombed widespread areas of central China and strafed Chinese positions yesterday to soften resistance of the 400,000 Chinese troops defending the Lushan corridor. The Japanese naval spokesman told of the bombardment and said the planes aimed particularly at Chinese airdromes.

Chinese Resisting
Chinese told of successful resistance on the southern border of the Lushan corridor, which separates the Japanese conquered areas of north China and the Yangtze river valley.

Compromise Sought On Corporations Surtax In House

Washington, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Democratic members of the House ways and means committee sought a compromise today on a proposed special surtax for corporations controlled by a family or a few individuals.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

them fought in the World War, and the digging-in-qualities of both the British and French are fresh in their memories.

On the other hand, the Italians came into the war late, did not participate in many severe campaigns, and did not give a good account of themselves when they did.

The German General Staff sent six observers with General Graziani during the Ethiopian campaign, who reported that the Italian army had improved. General von Blomberg, after witnessing the Italian maneuvers in Rome, also gave the same report. Nevertheless, the German General Staff still has more respect for the fighting qualities of the French and British than for the Italians.

Russian Objective
Mussolini's field of activity lies in the Mediterranean, where Great Britain is his inevitable enemy. But more conservative German generals are extremely skeptical of the Duce's complete confidence that he can bring the British to their knees.

Instead they would prefer to remain as friendly as possible with the British, and concentrate on Russia, with whom Britain never has been over-cordial.

This is the view not only of the now ousted General von Fritsch but also of Baron von Neurath, now ousted as Foreign Minister. Prior to last week this group was a brake on the emotional and frequently fanatical Hitler.

So difficult was it to curb Hitler's emotions that the General Staff did not tell him of the Spanish bombing of the German battleship Deutschland until four days after it happened and until after the Spanish city of Almeria already had been bombarded in retaliation. The generals were afraid Der Fuehrer would demand war.

Mussolini Doctrine
On the other hand, the attitude of Mussolini and the war-wing Nazis is that Britain's rearmament, plus U. S. naval building, plus growing cooperation between these two countries is a reason for early war.

On a long range armament program, they argue, Britain has the money and the raw materials to build, while Italy and Germany have not. Therefore they are relatively much better prepared now than they will be two years hence.

Until two months ago, however, not even the more Nazi-minded generals in the Reichswehr thought Germany was prepared for war. One General Staff officer, passing through the United States en route from Tokyo, reported to diplomatic friends:

"We have less raw material reserves today than we had near the end of the war in 1917. How can we possibly start until we have either more reserves or more inventions? It will take two years at least."

And he told of various substitutes German scientists were inventing for wool, rubber, cotton, etc., adding that as yet they were all too expensive.

German Granary
Since that time, however, an important thing has happened. Rumania, the great granary and oil preserve of Europe, has joined the Nazi nations. During the World War, Germany waged a swift and intense campaign to conquer Rumania and get her raw materials. Now she has ready access to them without fighting.

These two things have done more to change the war prospects of Europe than at any time in a dozen years. Number one is the Nazification of Rumania. Second is the ousting of the conservatives in the German Army and diplomatic service.

War is much closer as a result of last week's happenings than it was before.

U. S. Doctor's Bill
Sickness among government employees costs the U. S. several million dollars annually. For example, HOLC Chairman John H. Fahey says that sick leave in his Washington office alone costs the Government over $100,000 each year.

U. S. Lawyer's Bill
Jessie Jones' RPC has several hundred lawyers on its staff; but in addition, dozens of "outside" lawyers are hired for part-time work at $10 per hour. These "outside legal services" cost the taxpayers $185,000 in 1937, and in 1938 will cost about $270,000.

Merry-Go-Round
Pan-American enthusiasts promoting "cultural exchange" between the United States and Latin American countries have a long way to go. Out of 6,000 foreign students attending U. S. schools last year, only 20 came from Argentina, 21 from Brazil, and 12 from Chile. Japan, on the other hand, sent 1713 students to the United States and China sent 1519.

COPY KILKENNY CATS

Miami, Fla.—(AP)—It is a case of tree-eat-tree in a park beside the First avenue bridge here.

Years ago a palmetto palm and a banyan tree sprang up side by side. As they acquired the lusty growth of semi-tropical trees they crowded each other for space. Little by little the banyan encircled the palmetto.

Today a small portion of the palm's trunk shows outside the banyan up to a height of about 20 feet, where it becomes completely "swallowed." A few feet higher the palmetto emerges into the air and rustles its fan-shaped leaves defiantly at the hungry banyan.

Identification Of Dismembered Body Is Complete
Cheltenham, England, Feb. 10 — (AP)—Police said today they were nearly convinced a dismembered body taken from the river Severn was that of Captain William B. Butt and that it had been cut up at the grim stone home of Captain Butt's dead friend, the dancer Brian Sullivan.

A blood stained overcoat identified as having belonged to the retired army officer was found under the house, "Tower Lodge". Legs and other parts of a body believed to be Captain Butt's have been recovered from the river in recent days.

Captain Butt disappeared Jan. 4, several days before Sullivan, 27, was found dead from gas in a sealed room at his home.

Sullivan's death was pronounced suicide.

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

CONSERVING THE SABBATH

Text: Mark 2:23-3:6

By Wm. E. Gilroy, D. D.

Editor of Advance

Customs and even sound principles tend to lose their reality when obedience to them becomes formal and conventional. They tend also in the same way to become matters of bigotry and prejudice rather than of vital and intelligent conviction.

A distinctive institution of Judaism in the days of Jesus was the Sabbath. It was a noble institution based upon a fine conception and a sense of human need. It was the precursor of the Christian Sunday, which many Christians prefer to call the Sabbath, linking it with the Jewish institution rather than with the pagan derivation from which the word "Sunday" comes.

There is no doubt whatever that Jesus, as a sincere and devout Jew, highly regarded the Sabbath; but He found this noble institution given over in the minds of many people to purely formal observance, and to mere observance of a sort that utterly disregarded all sense of deeper human need and of higher human values.

When He healed a man upon the Sabbath Day instead of rejoicing that a fellow mortal had found health, the narrow people for whom observance of the Sabbath had become a matter of prejudice and bigotry found fault because the man had been healed on the Sabbath Day.

Our lesson tells how the disciples, as they went through the grain fields on the Sabbath Day and were hungry, plucked the ears and began to eat the wheat, just as many of us when we were boys, have done. With these disciples it was a matter of sheer hunger.

Why should they not have taken the food that was near at hand and that required no work of preparation other than rubbing it in the palm of the hand and winnowing it? Yet the bigots complained that these disciples were breaking the Sabbath.

It was under these circumstances that Jesus asserted in the plainest way that "the Sabbath was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath." That is a principle that we might establish and practice in the whole range of customs and observances.

When customs and observances become exalted to a place where they supplant human values and human needs, it is time to protest in the name of humanity, and it is sound to protest in the name of God.

In our modern world, of course, the whole matter is in a measure reversed. We tend today to have lost all sense of sanctity concerning a day of rest, to say nothing of the Jewish or Christian Sabbath.

It will be recognized that in our modern complex world it would be impossible to arrange everything on a basis of old-fashioned or strict observance of Sunday. It would mean that vast numbers of people would be subjected to great inconvenience, and possibly even to hunger and distress. We could not stop and paralyze our whole mechanism of life at a certain hour on Saturday evening.

Nevertheless, it is not for the good of humanity or for the world that we have so far abandoned the possible observance of Sunday as a day of rest, and above all, the spirit of the institution.

If Jesus were in our cities today, I think possibly He might put the emphasis on a different place. We might think of Him as saying: "The Sabbath was made for man. Why doesn't man make better use of it?"

SMALL FIRMS TO BORROW MONEY WITH FDR HELP

Promise Extended By Administration To Little Fellows

Washington, Feb. 10—(AP)—The administration extended a virtual promise today to help small businessmen borrow money.

Although details were withheld pending further study, Chairman Jesse H. Jones of the Reconstruction Finance corporation was reported ready to disclose the loan arrangements within a week or 10 days.

His intention was made known yesterday by Secretary of Commerce Roper, who was host to a thousand small businessmen at last week's turbulent conference.

Speculation on the proposal ranged from mere continuation of RFC lending to elaborate systems of new federal credit agencies and federal insurance of private loans to business.

Under the past RFC program, industrial loan authorizations totaled about $190,000,000, of which about $109,000,000 actually was loaned. This set-up, however, was described as over-cautious by the small business delegates, who suggested either federal insurance or direct loans from another agency.

Insurance Urged
The insurance idea was urged today by Senator Claude Pepper (D-Fla.), who introduced a bill to authorize the RFC to do the insuring. His proposal would permit the RFC to guarantee bank loans to businessmen up to $100,000 for five years, provided the loan were backed by real estate or other property worth 125 per cent of the amount of the loan.

Rep. Koppelman (D-Conn.) is sponsoring a bill to create a federal intermediate credit corporation which could discount business loans or lend money directly to businesses unable to obtain private financing.

In an address on general business aid, Donald R. Richberg, former NRA administrator, suggested that a bureau of industrial economics be set up in the commerce department to develop industrial planning.

Brain Twizzlers

By
PROF. J. D. FLINT

Many are the gage that have been written about what echoes had to say when some statement or question was hurled at them but we have here no gag but a Twizzler.

A physics student, while vacationing in the West, chanced to view the natural wonders of a beautiful national park. As he stood awed by an imposing cliff he was seized by a wild desire to shout so he tipped his head far back to give his vocal chords full sway and hollered "Wahoo!" The cliff echoed his cry and he repeated the performance. He learned that it was just two seconds until he heard the echo. If sound travels eleven hundred feet per second, how far away was the cliff?

Answer to Yesterday's Twizzler

develop reliable and adequate controls of what is quite evidently today a dangerously irresponsible economic system," said Richberg, one of the President's business advisers.

VIRKUS CHOICE FOR CONGRESS NOMINATION

Chicago, Feb. 10—(AP)—Frederick Vikrus, LaGrange publisher, is the Cook county Republican central committee's choice for nomination as congressman-at-large.

He was selected yesterday, along with George Lambur, Jr., Beverly Hills insurance agent, for clerk of the Supreme Court.

Selection of candidates for these posts was left to the Cook county committee by the executive committee of the Republican county chairmen's association of Illinois.

The executive committee previously had selected other candidates at a meeting at Urbana. Vikrus won nomination as congressman from the sixth district in the last primary but was defeated in the regular election. Lambur is making his debut as a candidate for public office. He is the son-in-law of James A. Kearns, Republican leader who served for many terms as clerk of the municipal court.

In addition to Vikrus and Lambur, others who received endorsements were State Senator Simon E. Lantz of Connersville, for congressman-at-large; William R. McCauley of Olney, for state treasurer; Richard J. Lyons of Libertyville, for United States senator, and Wiley B. Garvin, of Mascoutah, for superintendent of public instruction.

Representative Lyons, who came here from Libertyville to visit the Republican headquarters, addressed the state lawmakers yesterday.

"We recognize," he said, "that the action by the Urbana conference means the end of factionalism and sectionalism in our party in Illinois. Factionalism and sectionalism now go into the discard to be replaced by good old fashioned Republicanism."

VALENTINE LUNCHEON FEATURES LAMB CHOPS

Loin lamb chops seem to be a favorite choice for St. Valentine's Day, although no one seems to be quite sure when or how this food first came to be associated with February 14th.

Perhaps the real reason is that Valentine's is considered a forerunner of Spring and lamb formerly was considered a Spring meat. However, the real reason probably is that lamb chops are ever popular, and may be arranged in ways attractive to the eye.

An appropriate suggestion for a holiday luncheon is to serve the chops with peas that are tinted red, keeping with the favored color scheme. Lamb chops, like choice steaks, are better for broiling when cut thick, so for that special luncheon, choose double lamb chops.

Thoroughly pre-heat the broiling oven with the regulator set at "high." Place the thick chops on the broiler rack so that there is a distance of about three inches between the top of chops and the flame of heating element. This distance insures the chops from too rapid browning.

When the chops are nicely browned on one side, season, turn and finish cooking on the second side. Always serve broiled lamb chops very hot, so be ready to serve

THE CORRECT USE OF THE FLAG

Do not let the flag touch floor or ground. Do not place any object or emblem above the flag. Do not use the flag as drapery. Use bunting. Do not use the flag as part of a costume or uniform. When used on a motor car, the flag should fly from a staff. Do not use the flag in any form of advertising.

With the approach of Lincoln's birthday, Washington's birthday, Memorial Day, Flag Day and Independence Day, on all of which the Stars and Stripes will be exhibited profusely, the Daughters of the American Revolution have prepared the accompanying chart showing the proper ways to display the flag. The Dixon chapter of the D. A. R. is co-operating in this campaign of education on the courtesies due the banner of the United States of America.

The pears are tinted by re-heating them in syrup, to which red fruit coloring, or red cinnamon candies have been added. Serve the hot tinted pears and the delicately browned chops on a hot platter, garnished with fresh mint. (For added decoration, put a green cherry, or spring of mint in each pear cavity.) Buttered new green peas and hot rolls are favorite accompaniments.

NOT SUPERSTITIOUS

Haynesville, La. — (AAP) — Fire Chief Carl McEachern has proved he's not superstitious.

In submitting his quarterly report to the North Louisiana Fire association, he stated:

"I had 13 alarms during the quarter and answered 13 calls. I have been fire chief for 13 years, have 13 men in my department, live in house number 113, had a fire loss during the quarter of $1,300.10, had my first automobile accident on the 13th and it cost me $13 to get it fixed."

HE SEES WHO BUYS WHAT TOBACCO

Like so many other independent experts, Bill Whitley, Tobacco Auctioneer of Henderson, N. C., smokes Luckies

WILLIAM D. (BILL) WHITLEY sold over 15 million pounds of tobacco last year. It's easy to see that he's an expert who knows tobacco.

So it's important to you when he says... "At 14 different markets in Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Kentucky, I've seen Luckies buy the best tobacco. I figure it's good tobacco that makes a good smoke. So my own cigarette is Lucky Strike!

"I've noticed, too, that independent buyers, not connected with any cigarette manufacturer, smoke Luckies more than any other brand."

Mr. Whitley is correct. For sworn records show that, among independent tobacco experts, Luckies have twice as many exclusive smokers as have all other cigarettes put together. Remember: The men who know tobacco best smoke Luckies 2 to 1.

HAVE YOU HEARD "THE CHANT OF THE TOBACCO AUCTIONEER" ON THE RADIO?

When you do, remember that Luckies use the finest tobacco. And also that the "Tasting" process removes certain harsh irritants found in all tobacco. So Luckies are kind to your throat.

BROCKELHURST SUSPECTED OF SUICIDE PLAN

Tucker Prison Farm, Ark., Feb. 10—(AP)—Supt. Al Reed of the Arkansas penitentiary said Lester Brockelhurst, 33, condemned Galesburg, Ill., "crime tourist," had been chained to the floor of his cell in the death house here to prevent suicide.

Reed said the unusual precaution was taken after Brockelhurst, sentenced to be electrocuted March 4 for the hitch-hike slaying of Victor A. Gates, Little Rock landowner, became desperate a week ago and boasted he "would never be electrocuted."

The superintendent said the condemned man tried to commit suicide several nights ago by trying one end of a bed sheet around his neck and the other end to the top bars of his cell.

"He climbed up to the top of the cell and jumped down. The sheet wasn't tied very good and came undone," Reed said.

Reed said a leg iron had been placed around Brockelhurst's ankle and attached to a six-foot steel chain, fastened to a staple sunk in the center of his cell floor.

"The chain is light enough and long enough for him to move around or retire to his bunk, but not long enough for him to climb to the top of the cell or run out the door," Reed explained.

LEADS IN CO-OPERATIVES

St. Paul—(AP)—Minnesota has 1,900 co-operative organizations, the largest number of any state, a University of Minnesota agricultural college survey shows.

Creameries lead the list with 642. There are 359 shipping associations, 315 elevators, 194 oil associations, 121 stores, 163 credit unions, 72 potato and produce shipping associations and 34 cheese factories.

Missing Doorplate To Lincoln's Home Will Be Restored

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 10—(AP)—Missing many years, the doorplate which marked the entrance to Abraham Lincoln's home 78 years ago, will be restored to its original location amid ceremonies Saturday, the 129th birthday of the railsplitter president.

In the presence of a group of historically minded citizens, Gov. Horner will bolt the plate to the door, adding one more touch of authenticity to the restored home.

The black doorplate, which bears the inscription "A. Lincoln" in silver Roman characters, was donated to the state by a person wishing to remain anonymous, the governor said. Experts on Lincolnia have vouched for its authenticity.

As described by a contemporary of Lincoln in 1860, the restored home is exactly as it was in that day, except for color. Eighty years ago, it was pale chocolate. Today it is white.

Yesterday, Governor Horner announced an anonymous donor had given the state an original portrait of Abraham Lincoln by William Cogswell and a printed copy of the Civil War president's Proclamation of Emancipation.

More than half of the 1,213 S.O.S. and police messages broadcast in 1937 by the BBC were successful.

Dixonites Invited To Lecture Friday At Rockford School

H. S. Ede, curator of the Tate Gallery, London, will be the guest of Rockford college on Friday, Feb. 11. Members of the Phidian Art club of this city have been graciously invited to attend. This will be a genuine treat of which many Dixon people will avail themselves. The general public is included in the invitation.

Mr. Ede will give an illustrated lecture in Talcott hall at 8 o'clock on the subject "Pictures Are Like People." There is no admission fee.

Well known in England as a student and critic of modern painting, Mr. Ede has been instrumental in bringing to public notice some of the most talented English painters. He began life as a painter, but took up an official life in order to support his family. His house in London has been a rendezvous for artists of every kind, as well as for others interested in any of the arts.

He has a wide circle of friends in the United States among artists and those officially connected with art museums, critics and others. He is the author of "Savage Messiah," a biography of Henri Gaudier-Brzeska, which was chosen by the Book-of-the-Month club several years ago and enjoyed a wide circulation in this country as well as in England. In addition, Mr. Ede has written a book on Florentine Drawings of the Quattro Centro.

The Maddox Lecture Foundation which makes possible Mr. Ede's visit, was established as a gift to the community as well as to the college.

So-Called Equal Rights Amendment Opposed By Women

Members of the Illinois League of Women Voters have written Senators James Hamilton Lewis and William H. Dieterich asking them to oppose the so-called Equal Rights Amendment and to file the communications with the Judiciary Committee of the Senate which will hold a public hearing on the subject today.

At the hearing Miss Dorothy Straus, a New York attorney, will be in charge of presentation of testimony by all opponents of the amendment, which include: the National Woman's Trade Union League, the Young Women's Christian Association, the National Consumers' League, the National Council of Catholic Women, the National Council of Jewish Women, the Girls' Friendly Society of America, the American Federation of Labor, and the National League of Women Voters.

Among the prominent jurists who agree with the position of the League of Women Voters that the amendment is uncertain, unnecessary, and would not bring true equality for women is Leon Green, Dean of the School of Law of Northwestern University, who states in answer to a letter from Mrs. George G. Bogert, President of the Illinois League of Women Voters: "I am in full accord with the League of Women Voters in its opposition to the proposed 'Equal Rights Amendment' to the United States Constitution. No one could possibly determine what the amendment means. I am quite sure that the relations between men and women with respect to their more important interests will never be resolved by formal law. I am equally sure that what is desired by the members of your organization and all other good citizens is an equality of opportunity for women. There is no basis for thinking that this proposed constitutional amendment would further such equality. On the other hand, it might well greatly impair the family as an institution and the relations which grow out of the family."

John Henry Wignore, Dean Emeritus of the same law school, writes: "I look upon the proposed Equal Rights Amendment as neither appropriate at this time, nor likely to be satisfactory if adopted."

If passed, such an amendment might take from women protection now given by law; such as limitation of hours of labor, regulation of places and conditions of labor, and the like," says Edgar B. Tolman of 30 North LaSalle Street, prominent Chicago lawyer. Mr. Tolman says further: "It might deprive them of present exemptions and immunities; such as compulsory military service, poll tax, and labor on the roads. It might deprive married women of property rights, such as dower and homestead rights, and in several states, community rights in the husband's property, so far as husbands might be given like rights in the wife's property."

"On the other hand, there are serious doubts as to the extent to which the proposed amendment would be effective. Would it invalidate existing state legislation or prohibit it in the future? If so, to what extent and in what circumstances?"

"Mere equality is not enough for women. Every right-minded man in civilized communities concedes priority to women. The proposed amendment runs counter to his belief."

The Illinois League of Women Voters agrees with these jurists and believes that this so-called Equal Rights Amendment should be decisively defeated.

LIBBY WARNS OF WAR WITH JAPAN

Emphasizes Roosevelt Policy Dangerous To Our Peace

Washington, Feb. 10.—(AP)—A peace advocate told Congress today that President Roosevelt embarked, in his Chicago speech last fall, on "a policy of threat and bluff which can end only in humiliation or war."

Frederick J. Libby, executive secretary of the national council for prevention of war, made this assertion before the House naval committee while opposing the proposed $800,000,000 naval expansion program as "a definite step on the road to war."

Explaining he was a Quaker but favored a "reasonable" defense program, Libby declared it was the president's reference to "concerted effort" in the Chicago speech, and the degree of significance to be attached to it, that "worries the country."

He said the answer was embodied in part in the proposed 20 percent increase in the fleet and pending legislation to take profits out of war. He called the latter the "enabling legislation for the war department's mobilization plan."

In clipped, vigorous terms, Libby declared no nation in Europe or Asia was free at this time to attack the United States and he warned that this country would have to fight Japan unaided "if our bluff is called." He said this was borne out by conditions in Europe where he said every major power was fully occupied by "troubles in their own backyards."

MOTOR ACCIDENTS LINKED TO BUSINESS DECLINE
Sacramento, Calif.—(AP)—Traffic accidents as a cause of business depression are receiving the attention of the California Department of Motor Vehicles. In California alone, such accidents cause losses of more than $100,000,000 a year, according to Victor W. Killick, chief of the department's bureau of statistics. Killick raises the question as to whether road hazards may not be curtailing the sale and use of automobiles.

"If accidents are not curbed promptly," he said "this state and the nation are going to be confronted with a serious business crisis directly resulting from those accidents."

"Any per capita curtailment in the use of automobiles will not only seriously affect auto manufacturing, with its millions of workers, but the garage, accessory, rubber, petroleum and road building industries as well."

The Texas planning board is co-operating with the war department in locating manganese, beryl and other essential war minerals.

Marihuana

Girl Accused of Death of Bus Driver Blames Weed for Crime

New York, N. Y., Feb. 10.—(AP)—The 20-year-old policeman's daughter accused of killing a bus driver in a $210 holdup told the jury trying her and a girl companion for murder today that marihuana cigarettes which made "wrong things seem right" started her on her brief career of crime.

The "smokes," Mrs. Ethel Strouse Sohl testified, "made me forget all about the pain in my head" which she said she had suffered since an automobile accident four years ago. She was introduced to the narcotic, she added, by her young husband, now a reformatory inmate.

Occasionally, her co-defendant Genevieve Owens, 18, glanced at her.

The girls are charged with killing William Barthorst, 34, in his bus during a hold-up at Belleville December 21.

Her blonde, boyish-bobbed hair freshly finger-waved, Mrs. Sohl seemed scarcely more than a child as she sat quietly in the witness chair and answered questions of her counsel, Gerald McLaughlin, in a voice barely audible to spectators.

From the rear of the room, Barthorst's widow, in mourning, eyed her and wept.

Resume Trial Of Lieut.-Governor For Embezzling

Lincoln, Neb. Feb. 10.—(AP)—Defense attorneys prepared today to file motions for a new trial in the case of Lieutenant Governor Walter H. Jurgensen of Nebraska, convicted by a district court jury late yesterday of embezzling $549 from Chester C. Kaderli, western Nebraska depot agent.
Defense Counsel R. F. Stout said he would move for a new trial within the three-day period permitted by statute.

Boy Testifies He Saw Trio Talking To Doomed Rector

St. Simons Island, Ga., Feb. 10.—(AP)—Officers studied information today from a 14 year old boy that Dr. Charles H. Lee conversed with a white man and two Negroes four hours before he was shot to death through a rectory window Saturday night.
Wiley Tillett, son of Coast Guard Captain E. G. Tillett, testified at a coroner's inquest that he saw the rector of Christ Episcopal church talking with the trio about 7:30 P. M.
A score of friends, neighbors, servants and other residents of the island were questioned in the effort to ascertain who killed the rector, 71, and why.
Don McCaskill, special deputy for the coroner's jury, announced today a "mysterious letter" slipped under the rectory door last Friday was the calling card of a friend of Dr. Lee.
Renewal of the inquest was set for Friday.

Syphilis and the Unborn

FIVE OUT OF SIX BABIES OF UNTREATED SYPHILITIC MOTHERS ARE BORN DEAD OR DISEASED

THE effects of unchecked syphilis are perhaps nowhere more tragic than in the unborn. More than nine-tenths of the 60,000 infants born with syphilis in the United States each year could be healthy if expectant mothers would insist upon blood tests and full treatment, when needed, at least during the last five months of pregnancy. Some states are considering laws which will require blood tests for expectant mothers as a vital step toward re-

The event has been monopolized by Negroes for five years, so Steers, who has done 6:8 in practice, is the White Hope of the high jumpers.

Obtains Majority In Fighting Union With Irish State

Belfast, Northern Ireland, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Prime Minister Viscount Craigavon's government, fighting union with the rest of Ireland, today had an absolute majority of at least 28 seats in the 52-member House of Commons of northern Ireland.
Twelve contests were still undecided at 5:15 P. M. The tabulation of yesterday's general election was to be completed tonight.
Lord Craigavon had said that government victory would constitute a fresh mandate for his battle against union between northern Ireland (Eire) as envisaged by the new constitution of the former Irish Free State.
Including acclamations—uncontested nominations—whereby 14 government supporters continued in office, the Craigavon following held 28 seats—two newly-won, one from labor and one from the nationalists who stand for union of the two Irelands.
The nationalists, holding six seats by acclamation, won two by election. The Labor party held one seat by acclamation and won another. An Independent Unionist and a candidate of the Farmers party were elected, taking seats formerly held by Republicans.
Leaders of the Progressive Unionist, Independent Unionist and Labor parties were defeated.

Burglary Suspect Held Under Arrest

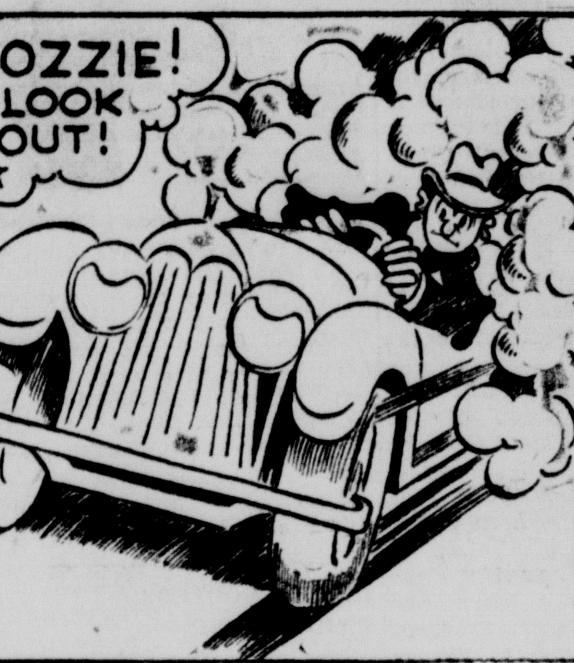

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 10.—(AP)—Chief W. W. Akers said today he had notified B. M. Casteel, superintendent of the Missouri state highway patrol, that Lon Morrison, 40, wanted in Christian county, Mo., was under arrest and in jail at Centerville, Iowa.
Akers, Iowa bureau of investigation chief, said Casteel wrote him December 10 that Morrison was wanted in Christian county for burglary and larceny.
"This robbery occurred about four years ago at which time an old couple was tortured and the lady died shortly after, apparently from the effect of the shock," Casteel said in his letter to Akers.
Casteel also said Morrison had been a fugitive from the charge since that time and that he had received information the man was living on a farm near Muscatine, Iowa.

Critically Injured By Fall From Train

Greensburg, Pa., Feb. 10.—(AP)—Kevin Butler of St. Paul, Minn., was injured critically today in a fall from a speeding Pennsylvania railroad train.
A spokesman for the Westmoreland hospital said Butler had told attendants he was a son of Justice Pierce Butler of the Supreme Court.
In Washington, Justice Butler's office declined comment. The justice, in his robes, hurried from the bench at noon when a clerk handed him a message.
Pennsylvania railroad officials said Butler fell through the window of a lavatory, while the train was traveling 50 miles an hour.
The hospital reported Butler's skull was fractured and his face and head lacerated badly.

DIXON ENGINEER TELLS OF YEAR'S WORK IN MEXICO

Karl Barthelmess Tells Telegraph Reporter of Impressions

"Enough tin to break the British monopoly, and a huge area of tin ore as yet untouched and undeveloped underlies the state of Durango in Mexico," Karl Barthelmess, Dixon, told a Telegraph representative today who interviewed him on his year's sojourn as mining engineer in Mexico.

Barthelmess returned Saturday after a year's stay. Together with Mr. and Mrs. Byron Etnyre, Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, two other Dixon couples, he left for Mexico in the employ of the Zacatecas Tin Company. Mr. and Mrs. Miller are now in California and Mrs. Etnyre returned to the United States in September 1937. Etnyre returned to Dixon with Barthelmess Saturday.

Barthelmess said the company was unable to obtain the sanction of the Cardenas government to operate the mine longer than one year. Together with Etnyre he then operated a silver and lead mine near Chalchihuites in Zacatecas state independently until the price of lead dropped and it became no longer profitable to work the mine.

"England controls the price of lead," stated Barthelmess, "and Mexico is merely a football of the big money interests in Great Britain. Furthermore the Mexican government refused to renew our passports for another year without a down payment of 20,000 pesos." ($7,200).

During his survey of undeveloped tin resources Barthelmess charted a huge mineral belt twenty-five miles in length in the state of Durango upon which he made a complete report.

"Raw tin ore averages from six to nine percent in purity," said Barthelmess, "while concentrates average between 18 and 24 percent. As the United States is interested in obtaining a supply of tin independent of the British controlling interests, two United States Steel Co. engineers were present in Durango investigating the possibilities of tin and tungsten mining while we were there."

It is Barthelmess' opinion development of these vast resources will have to await a more friendly and profitable diplomatic arrangement between the United States and Mexico than exists at present.

Veterinarian Is Suicide Victim

Lincoln, Ill., Feb. 10.—(AP)—Dr. Amos Armstrong, 50, veterinarian, was found dead early today in his automobile at the rear of his downtown office where he had practiced 20 years. Coroner Donald Holland in setting an inquest for tomorrow said the man apparently committed suicide by carbon monoxide poisoning. A hose was attached to the exhaust pipe and led into the car, Holland said. Armstrong's widow and a daughter, Imogene, survive.

PICKING OFF THE SPARES—by SIXTA

"Chuck" Collier, one of the nation's best known veteran bowlers, scored his 27 consecutive strikes in an endurance match. Collier bowled alone against a five-man team. His name appeared five times opposite the names of his opponents on the scoresheet and his scoring was frame for frame against each of the quintet. His 27 consecutive strikes, therefore, were chalked up vertically instead of horizontally, filling the first five frames on each line with strikes, plus two extra. But none of his line totals added up to the perfect 300. P. S. He won the match.

HIGH SCHOOLS CAN TURN DOWN SOME STUDENTS

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 10.—(AP)—Attorney General Otto Kerner held today that where a high school is overcrowded, authorities of that district have "ample" power to refuse to accept pupils certified from adjoining non-high school districts.

The ruling was made in an informal opinion written for State's Attorney Homer Kasserman of Newton.

"I know of no law which requires a high school district to maintain its high school for the use of pupils of another district, especially when such other district fails to pay the required tuition for its pupils attending the high school," Kerner said.

Kerner said that unless the pupils can compel the district in which they reside to pay their tuition in full he could see no method under the law for them to obtain an education unless they pay it in full or the amount remaining unpaid.

In another informal ruling for State's Attorney Joseph R. Peterson of Princeton, Kerner held that a mother who has title to real property is barred from a pension regardless of its fair market value unless it is a homestead or a dower right which is not worth more than $1,000.

Kerner held the Illinois liquor commission, had no authority to consider an appeal taken from action of a board of supervisors acting as a county board.

AGED WRITER OF TURF PLAY DIES AT QUINCY HOME

Quincy, Ill., Feb. 10.—(AP)—Charles T. Dazey, 82-year-old playwright whose drama of the turf, "In Old Kentucky," brought him nation-wide fame, died in a hospital last night.

Two years after he was graduated from Harvard university, Dazey wrote his first stage play, "American King." It was produced by James O'Neill, father of Eugene O'Neill, famous playwright.

He wrote "In Old Kentucky" in 1891, ten years after he left Harvard. It was produced by Jacob Litt and the premiere was held in St. Paul in 1892. "In Old Kentucky" was made into a silent film in 1909 and produced in sound in 1935 with the late Will Rogers as the star.

In late years Dazey told friends that one of the biggest thrills of his life was when he directed the staging of his famous play at the county fair racetrack at Quincy.

Dazey was born in Lima township, Adams county, Ill., on Aug. 13, 1855. His father, Mitchell Dazey, was an Illinois state senator.

Dazey studied at a preparatory school in Kentucky before entering Harvard. After his graduation he studied law at Columbia university. Several years ago he received an honorary master of arts degree from Illinois college at Jacksonville.

Survivors included his widow and

HITLER RENEWS JOB TO NAZIFY GERMAN ARMY

Berlin, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler, the ambitious ex-corporal who 19 years ago started out to Nazify the German army, is renewing the task.

Some have posed the question whether he could do it this time.

Nineteen years ago Hitler was a mere party leader trying to win adherents within the army.

This time he is head of the state, with direct control of all its armed forces, and it would be a stout-hearted general, indeed, who defied him openly.

Nevertheless, diplomatic quarters heard reports yesterday that three generals offered their resignations in protest.

The reports raised the questions whether Hitler was stronger than these generals, whether there were many such discontented higher officers in the army, and what would result.

Opinions differed among veteran observers, but few saw any likelihood that Hitler would back down on his Nazification program, begun with last week's army and cabinet shake-ups.

Rumors of arrest of many officers have not yet been substantiated, but observers pointed out that all necessary precautions against effective opposition naturally were taken before the chancellor removed Field Marshal Werner Von Blomberg as war minister, deposed the army chief of staff, retired 13 army and air force generals, and assumed direct command of the armed forces for himself.

MRS. RUBENS NOT ABLE TO DISCUSS ARREST BY REDS

Soviet Authorities Present to Censor Interview

Moscow, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Mrs. Ruth Marie Rubens of New York, pale from two months imprisonment, talked for an hour and 15 minutes today with Loy W. Henderson, United States charge d'affaires, but apparently was able to impart little of her account of her arrest on suspicion of espionage.

Soviet judicial authorities were present to censor the interview. Mrs. Rubens was permitted to answer only questions approved by an examining judge of the Soviet military tribunal wearing the insignia of a brigade commander.

Henderson declined to tell what took place during his visit to the grim old Butirka prison outside Moscow until he had made his report to the state department. He was accompanied by Angus Ward, United States consul, who went to interpret if necessary.

It was understood Mrs. Rubens had to keep silent concerning details of her arrest. Her visitors gained the impression she would be held in prison for a considerable time.

The long-delayed interview, formally demanded by the American government Jan. 18, took place in what appeared to be the office of an assistant warden of the prison.

Judge Represented
Present in addition to the Americans were the judge, a representative of the Soviet foreign office and an official who acted as interpreter.

Questions were put by Henderson in English and translated for the benefit of the judge, who then gave or refused permission for Mrs. Rubens to answer.

It was understood the judge found objectionable certain lines of questioning intended to draw out her detailed story of her arrest here Dec. 9, and that such points as to whether she was served with a warrant as provided by Soviet law had to go unanswered.

The woman was identified positively by Henderson and Ward as the person to whom was issued a valid American passport in the name of Ruth Marie Rubens. When arrested she was traveling on another passport, not valid, as "Mrs. Donald L. Robinson."

The two American officials found her to be the same woman with whom they talked briefly at the National hotel the night of Dec. 8, a few hours before her disappearance from that hotel, two doors from the United States embassy.

The "Donald L. Robinson" with whom she had come to Russia in November had disappeared a week before. It later developed he was arrested as a spy at Sverdlovsk in the Ural mountains Dec. 2.

Campbell Boosted For Treasurer

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 10.—(AP) Reports at the statehouse today said that petitions were being circulated in several areas of the state for Bruce A. Campbell of Belleville as a Democratic candidate for state treasurer. He is Democratic state chairman.

Campbell, reported to be in New York City, has not announced his candidacy but rumors have circulated widely during the past two weeks that he would make the race with the endorsement of the Kelly-Nash faction.

In many states the will of an unmarried woman is deemed revoked by her subsequent marriage.

Remember Pedestrians

Nearly half of the 36,800 people killed by automobile accidents in the United States last year were pedestrians, according to figures released by The Travelers Insurance Company.

In most cases the pedestrians asked for it. It is seldom that automobiles come up on the sidewalk and chase pedestrians. Sometimes they do, but not often.

As a rule, a pedestrian wants it and walks out where he can get it.

He'll put his frail, watery flesh and fragile bones against a ton or two of thundering steel and glass and flaming fire.

He'll put his life in the hands of drivers of cars coming at him at 25 to 75 miles an hour—drivers, many of whom, if he knew them personally, he wouldn't trust with ten cents worth of dog meat.

He'll walk along a country road with his back to traffic (instead of facing it as he should) and leave it to the assorted morons, nit-wits, kids, drunks and a certain percentage of careful, intelligent drivers to see that they don't bump him into kingdom come.

He won't be a sissy, so instead of waiting for traffic lights in city streets he'll dart out into a mess of swift traffic and jump around among speeding cars like a fox in the middle of a pack of hounds.

He'll cross in the middle of the block. (4,640 killed this way last year.) He'll step out from behind parked cars without peeking (1,320). He'll cross busy intersections city-cornered.

Of course, some pedestrians are children whose parents haven't taught them the danger of playing in streets, but most pedestrians who get killed or maimed by motor cars ask for it and—GET IT!

I'd say that it ought to be easy to eliminate 10,000 pedestrian deaths a year—if the pedestrians were interested.

Iron Lung Rushed To Stricken Girl; Moline Hospital

Moline, Ill., Feb. 10.—(AP)—An iron lung was rushed to the Moline city hospital last night in an effort to save the life of Marjorie Smith, 14-year-old Illinois, girl who is suffering from a collapsed lung.

The "lung" owned by the C. B. & Q. railroad was taken by train from St. Francis hospital in Peoria to Galesburg and from there to Moline by truck. It was immediately installed in the hospital and the girl was placed in it. Physicians said chances for the girl's recovery were not good.

She first complained late in January and was taken to a hospital for paralysis of the spinal cord. Collapse of the lung developed in the last few days.

The girl is a student at Moline high school and is an accomplished accordionist. She is president of the Sunday school class at the Full Gospel temple in Moline.

The "lung" is the first to be used in the quad-cities.

Bond For Accused Confidence Man Sliced In Half

Chicago, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Bond for Fred (The Deacon) Buckminster, 72, accused of operating a confidence game, was cut from $50,000 to $25,000 today and his case was continued to Feb. 15 in felony court.

Buckminster, released this week from the Jackson, Mich., prison where he had served a term for confidence game operations, was identified yesterday by Miss Agnes Harter as one of those who defrauded her of $32,000 in 1932.

PAROLEE SENTENCED

Marion, Ill.—(AP)—Eugene Swinney, 31, faced today an indeterminate sentence of one year to life after pleading guilty before Circuit Judge D. F. Rumsey to a robbery charge.

He was accused of robbing Harry Lannons, filling station attendant in January, 1936, while on parole from the Southern Illinois state penitentiary.

Voices Opposition To Absentee Bank Ownership Today

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 10.—(AP)—Orval W. Adams of Salt Lake City, president of the American Bankers Association, today expressed his opposition to "absentee ownership" of banks.

In a speech prepared for delivery before the 10-state regional conference of the A. B. A., Adams said: "The A. B. A. never has believed in absentee ownership in the banking system. It believes the banks in the various communities should be directly responsible to the people in those communities in the conduct of their affairs."

Bankers from Illinois, Kansas, Minnesota, Nebraska, North and South Dakota, Wisconsin, Wyoming and Iowa attended the conference.

Petition Seeking Trustee's Removal Filed in U. S. Court

East St. Louis, Ill., Feb. 10.—A petition seeking removal of Walter J. Forester, as trustee of a $200,000 estate owned by the First National Bank of Du Quoin, Ill., was filed in federal court here yesterday by Albert B. Ring, receiver of the bank which is in liquidation proceedings.

The suit asks Forester be ordered to make a full accounting of funds he has handled as trustee since his appointment in 1930, and requests a successor be appointed. The trust fund, valued by Ring at approximately $200,000, was created when the First National Bank consolidated with the First Bank and Trust Company of Du Quoin.

OTTAWA WOMAN TESTIFIES IN RADIUM TRIAL

Collapses While Telling About Physical Condition

Ottawa, Ill., Feb. 10.—(AP)—Mrs. Catherine Wolf Donahue, collapsed today after testifying about her physical condition which she and other women contend was due to so-called "radium poisoning" contracted while they were employed by the Radium Dial Company.

She broke down when her attorney, Leonard Grossman, asked her physician, Dr. Walter W. Dalitsch of Chicago, whether her condition would result in "certain death."

Before he answered she slumped in her chair and sobbed, her husband, Thomas, also wept, and she was carried from the room where Arbitrator George Marvel of the Illinois Industrial Commission began hearings today on the women's compensation claims. Mrs. Donahue was revived and returned to the room.

Dr. Dalitsch, a former dentist and now a surgeon, testified Mrs. Donahue was afflicted with osteo necrosis, which he said resulted from "radio-activated" poisoning in her jawbone.

Sees "Direct Cause"
The doctor testified there was "a direct cause and relation" between Mrs. Donahue's condition now and her former employment. He said she was not now capable of being employed.

The women asking compensation alleged they contracted poisoning by "swallowing, absorbing and inhaling radium dust" while painting radium watch dials.

Besides Mrs. Donahue, those present today were Mrs. Marie Rossiter, Marguerite Giacinski, Mrs. Frances O'Connell, Mrs. Maxine Smith, all of Ottawa; Miss Helen Munch, Chicago; Miss Pearl Payne, Utica, and Mrs. Olive Witt, Seneca.

One of the original plaintiffs, Inez Corcoran Vallet, died since filing her claim with the commission. Relatives said death resulted from the alleged poisoning.

The Radium Dial Company moved last year from Ottawa to New York.

State Historical Library Receives Civil War Letters

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 10.—(AP)—The State Historical library has acquired the letters of General John A. McClernand, Illinois political leader and military expert on the staff of General U. S. Grant at Vicksburg.

In announcing the situation, Governor Horner said they "throw interesting light upon contemporary material already in the state Lincolniana collection."

The collection of approximately 150 letters includes an order from President Lincoln authorizing McClernand to raise a force of men for the Mississippi river campaign which culminated in the battle of Vicksburg.

Enriched Farmer Was Fined $500

Oiney, Ill., Feb. 10.—(AP)—Albert Travis, one of the Clay City farmers enriched by the oil boom, was fined $500 and costs by County Judge Roy E. Booley on his plea of guilty of reckless driving and driving while intoxicated. The fines were the heaviest ever assessed in Richland county court on these charges.

Director, Sealtest Laboratory Kitchen

WE'VE seen our guests devour these sour cream rolls by the dozens—and call for more! For, the tangy appeal added through the sour cream always seems to delight. Why not try them, tonight?

SOUR CREAM ROLLS

2 cups thick sour cream
1 cake compressed yeast
1/4 teaspoon soda
2 teaspoons salt
1/4 cup sugar
4 cups flour
Melted butter

Scald cream and cool to lukewarm. Crumble the yeast cake and stir into 1/4 cup of the lukewarm cream. Add soda, salt and sugar to the remaining cream and mix well. Combine the two mixtures and add flour gradually, stirring constantly until smooth. Brush with melted butter, cover, put in a warm place and let rise to about 2 1/2 to 3 times the original volume. Knead lightly for about 1 minute and cut dough in two parts. Roll out one part a time in rectangular shape about 1/2 inch thick. Brush with butter and cut in lengthwise strips about 2 inches wide. Place strips on top of each other, and cut off pieces about 1 1/2 inches wide. Place the pieces in buttered small muffin pans with the cut edges up. Let rise in a warm place until double in size. Bake in a hot oven (325°F.) for 10 to 15 minutes or until golden brown. Brush with butter if desired. These rolls can be made in about 2 1/2 to 3 hours. This recipe makes about 24 rolls.

Denial Made That Capone Is Confined In Strait-Jacket

San Francisco, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Out of a welter of conflicting reports came a flat denial today that ex-Gangster Al Capone was confined in a strait-jacket in Alcatraz island's prison hospital.

The only thing definite is that the once-boastful Chicago gangster is in a hospital cot, under observation for insanity, in the prison for America's most hardened criminals.

"Capone is being given the best of attention. He has shown no signs of violence since entering the hospital and has not been in a strait-jacket."

"I don't propose to issue hourly bulletins on Capone's temperature, and pulse. Capone has no special nurse. He is being given the usual care and there is no intention at this time to remove him to any other institution."

The San Francisco Examiner said today an "unimpeachable" source had disclosed Capone would be on his way to the federal hospital for delinquents at Springfield, Mo., in a few days.

STEEL PRICE CUT QUESTION UNANSWERED

Contracts Announced Yesterday Leave Matter Open

New York, Feb. 10.—(AP)—The United States Steel Corporation and the Committee for Industrial Organization, their 1937 labor contracts renewed indefinitely, left unanswered today the question of whether cuts in steel prices would force wage reductions.

The contracts, announced yesterday at the end of a three-day conference, left open the way for either a reduction or increase in wages at any time and even for termination of the agreements.

"We are of the opinion that the agreements definitely stem the tide of wage-slashing which has been imminent throughout the country," said Philip Murray, chairman of the Steel Workers Organizing committee.

"Heretofore," he added, "there has been a decided hesitancy on the part of consumers to purchase steel, due to the belief in many circles that price-slashing would take place. This was to be followed by wage reductions."

Even before he spoke, however, several independent steel companies announced a cut of $4 a ton in the price of cold-reduced and oiled sheets. The Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation, largest subsidiary of U. S. Steel, immediately met the new price.

The contracts renewed yesterday maintain existing provisions for a $5-a-day pay minimum, 40-hour week and time and half for overtime in four subsidiaries of U. S. Steel.

The four companies, employing 240,000, are Carnegie-Illinois, American Steel & Wire Company, National Tube Company, and Tennessee Coal, Iron & Railroad Company.

This Didn't Cool Religious Fervor

Arm outflung and shouting her faith, a woman convert stumbles from frigid Middlebranch creek, near Canton, O., after being baptized by the Rev. Joseph Hughes of the Church of God. The Rev. Hughes and helpers chopped a pathway through the four-inch ice to permit the immersion. The costless youth seen aiding the pastor in the above picture was one of the four men, two boys and another woman who also were baptized in the chilling waters.

1/2 cup white cream cheese
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1/2 cup whipped cream

6 egg whites, beaten
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

PRICE SCHEDULE RELIEF REASONS CITED IN COURT

Coal Companies File Brief Defending Their Stand

Chicago, Feb. 10.—(AP)—In a brief filed with the United States Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday, Attorney George T. Evans, counsel for one Indiana and six Illinois coal companies, cited five principal grounds for relief from the price schedule fixed by the national bituminous coal commission. They were:

1. That the act under which the commission was established was of "extremely doubtful constitutionality."
2. That the commission set certain price orders without hearing and findings of fact.
3. That the procedure deprived the companies of their property without due process of law.
4. That the prices ($2.15 a ton in Illinois for locomotive fuel and $2.10 a ton in Indiana) were confiscatory.
5. That the companies and their employees suffered "large and irreparable losses" each day the prices remained in effect.

The seven companies are seeking relief by injunction from the price schedule as applied to locomotive fuel.

fuel pending the outcome of an appeal before the court.

Counsel for the commission must file an answer to Attorney Evans' brief within 36 hours.

The brief alleged the new regulations were costing the Truax-Trax Coal Company $2,000 a day, with other concerns losing proportionately from decreased business.

Should the court decide neither to vacate the general price schedule nor set aside the section on locomotive fuel, the companies asked a modification to permit them to change various prices according to quality of coal and freight charges.

LIQUIDATES LLOYDS

Chicago —(AP)—Superior Judge James F. Fardy signed an order yesterday liquidating Chicago Lloyds, insurance underwriters.

Some time ago Ernest Palmer state director of insurance, filed a petition describing continued operation of the company as "hazardous because of its financial condition." The concern, in no way associated with Lloyds of London, operated in Illinois and eight other states.

Judge Fardy set Tuesday noon as the deadline for the filing of claims by policy holders.

ROCKFORD GIRL WINS DELAY IN DYER ACT TRIAL

Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 10.—(AP)—Because of her small baby, 19-year-old Bernice Felton of Rockford, Ill., today had won a postponement until the October term of court on her trial for violating the Dyer act.

"That girl has a six-week's old baby," U. S. District Attorney Fred Isgrig said yesterday in agreeing to the postponement. "We can't send a baby to jail."

Miss Felton, sweetheart of Lester Brockhurst, former Sunday school teacher at Galesburg, Ill., condemned slayer of Victor A. Gates, had planned to come here this week to plead guilty. The Dyer act prohibits transportation of a stolen automobile across a state line.

Meanwhile Brockhurst, worried over his impending execution March 4, was chained to the floor of his cell in the death house at Tucker prison farm. Prison Supt. Al Reed said the prisoner killed in one suicide attempt and threatened to attempt an escape.

RELIEF PROBLEM IS FOUGHT WITH HEALTH PROGRAM

Baton Rouge, La. —(AP)—Louisiana is digging into the roots of the relief problem with a $1,000,000 health program.

The theory is that a man, given back his health, may find himself a job and cease being a public burden. Another idea is that his children will have better chances of growing into useful, self-supporting citizens if their health is guarded.

Accordingly, the state already is building one hospital for relief clients and is considering two others in addition to a $12,000,000 charity hospital being constructed in New Orleans from separate funds and still another charity hospital now in operation.

Eight trailer automobiles equipped with modern dental equipment to tour the state to give free treatment to the needy, the employment of dentists and physicians under state welfare laws and plans for combating syphilis and tuberculosis round out the program.

RUG DEALER ACCUSED

Chicago —(AP)—Federal Judge John P. Barnes issued a warrant yesterday for the arrest of Manas M. Torcom, a Chicago rug dealer, on charges of violating the import laws. Custom agents accused him of removing a "made in Japan" label from a small rug which he sold to a customer. Conviction carries a maximum penalty of a year in jail or a fine of $5,000, or both.

Insurgent Army In Position For Decisive Thrust

Hendaye, France, (At the Spanish Frontier)—Feb. 10—(AP)—The Spanish insurgent army is in strategic position for a new thrust between government Valencia and Catalonia, insurgent military dispatches said today.

Insurgents said that victory along the Alhambra river after a four-day offensive in the Teruel sector had been halted for consolidation of positions, but that "conditions were excellent" for a new drive.

Insurgents asserted 4,247 bodies of government soldiers were found on the battlefields and that 4,500 prisoners were taken in the recent Teruel fighting.

Taming Wild Gas Well Inferno

In order to quell a wild gas well fire in the LaBlanca field in the southern tip of Texas, oil field fire fighters walked straight into the blazing crater, tied cables to the collapsed surface casing and set it back in an upright position. After flooding the crater with water, the fire fighters are shown in the above photo as they laid a concrete supporting apron around the casing. Next step after the concrete had set was to force a 17-ton manifold fitted with valves into the casing to kill the flow from the well.

City Council Of Olney Amends Its Oil Drilling Rule

Olney, Ill., Feb. 10—(AP)—The Olney city council amended its ordinance regulating oil drilling in an adjourned session yesterday. The session followed a turbulent regular meeting at which many visitors addressed councilmen regarding the new law.

As amended, the ordinance requires a $5,000 bond by each drilling contractor, instead of $20,000. It also requires each driller, who must pay $100 for a permit to drill within the city, to obtain public liability insurance of from $25,000 to $50,000, and property damage in-

GOGA REGIME RESIGNS AFTER SIX WEEK RULE

Bucharest, Feb. 10—(AP)—The anti-Semitic government of Premier Octavian Goga resigned today after six turbulent weeks in office.

Former Premier George Mironescu was commissioned by King Carol to form a new cabinet.

Dr. Miron Cristea, patriarch of the Rumanian Orthodox church, declined a suggestion by the king that he take over the regime.

The cabinet's fall was climax of a day in which indications of Goga's fall from favor mounted. Before the resignation King Carol had summoned four former premiers, not including Mironescu, to the palace for individual audiences.

Those received by the king included nearly all the living former premiers of Rumania. It was understood he was trying to recruit the country's best brains.

Pleaded for Cooperation
He was said to have pleaded with the political leaders to cooperate with him for the welfare of the state. He was described as having decided to build the "strongest possible government" to meet many pressing problems confronting the country before the general elections called for March 2.

It was authoritatively stated Goga would not be included in the new government.

Mironescu, 64-year-old veteran of Rumanian politics, was a leader of the national peasant party before his announced retirement from politics in November, 1933. He headed his own cabinet in 1930-31 and held posts in the subsequent cabinets of Julius Maniu and Alexander Vaida-Voevod, of the same party.

Reports were that Nicholas Titulescu, Mironescu's colleague in those governments, would become minister of war in the new one.

Goga took office Dec. 28, 1937, and embarked at once on an anti-Jewish program that drew worldwide attention. Because his national Christian party held only nine per cent of the seats in parliament he had that body dissolved January 18 and elections called.

Tells Of Finding Hacked Body Of Farmer In Ditch

Lawrenceville, Ill., Feb. 10—(AP)—Mrs. John Fulton of near Pink-staff today told a circuit court jury of finding the hacked body of Ira Hanna, Noble, Ill., farmer, in a country roadside ditch near her home last Oct. 22.

Several other witnesses were heard in the state's effort to prove murder charges against Clarence Thompson, 28, of West Liberty, Ill., in the Hanna slaying. Thomas Panty, also of West Liberty, pleaded guilty two days ago.

Hanna's son, Jado, testified his father had between $90 and $100 in his possession when he left home on Oct. 14. That was the day, the state charged, that Hanna was slain with a corn knife after an argument. Authorities said only 20 cents was found in Hanna's clothing when his body was found.

CRISLER HEAD
GRID MENTOR
AT MICHIGANHas Promise of Athletic Director's Job
Later

Princeton, N. J., Feb. 10—(AP)—Herbert Orrin (Fritz) Crisler, ending his six-year job of rebuilding Princeton's football fortunes, was back in the Big Ten today as Michigan's head grid coach, with assurance that the athletic directorship would follow in the not-too-distant future.

Released from the Princeton contract which still had two years to run, the tall dark-haired Crisler takes over at Michigan not only as head coach, but also "as assistant director of athletics, at first."

"Later, I will become director of athletics," he said last night in announcing his Princeton resignation, and Michigan acceptance. Although Michigan officials denied they had discussed the directorship with him, it was believed generally that some assurance of the position was made in order to get Crisler to transfer from Tipton.

Refused to Accept
For weeks, in fact almost since the day last December when Harry Kipke was advised his contract as Wolverine coach would not be renewed, rumor had Crisler slated for the berth. But reports were that he refused to accept until he could be sure the athletic directorship also would be his when Fielding H. Yost stepped down from that office.

Today it was generally regarded that he would succeed Yost within a year or two.

Crisler explained that Michigan officials had "presented a new position last Monday, which included added duties on athletic administration." This "position" was regarded as the factor that ended the hitch in negotiations.

To Princeton's campus, Michigan's gain is the Tigers' severe loss. Undergraduates and alumni alike were disappointed over the jolt handed Princeton by loss of the 38-year-old mentor who came from Minnesota in 1932 and skyrocketed the Tigers out of their worst football depression back to the heights, with undefeated, untied teams in 1933 and 1935 and a record of 35 won, nine lost and five tied in his six-year regime.

Professor Burnham N. Dell, chairman of the Princeton council, in announcing acceptance of the resignation, said "no action was taken in regard to a successor to Mr. Crisler."

However, it was learned that at last night's council meeting, Crisler discussed his possible successor. Prominent in the discussions were Ray Morrison of Vanderbilt, Don Peden of Ohio University, Charles Caldwell, a Princeton alumnus now coaching at Williams, and Tad Wierman, Campbell Dickson and Earl T. Martineau, all members of Crisler's present staff. One source said Crisler recommended Peden.

Is Also Professorship
The assistant athletic directorship at Michigan carries with it an assistant professorship. Crisler explained that in addition to his coaching duties, he would also give a four-year course on the "theory and practice" of football.

The Princeton berth was Crisler's first step out of the Big Ten. He was a three-sport man as an undergraduate at Chicago, graduating in 1922. From 1925 to 1930 he was assistant coach to Amos Alonzo Stagg at his alma mater, and then went to Minnesota as coach and athletic director in 1930 and '31.

Princeton's grid fortunes hit the down-grade in the late 20's and early 30's, and the Tiger athletic fathers summoned Crisler to rebuild them at a salary variously reported to be between $8,000 and $12,000.

His salary at Michigan was not disclosed, but the university president, Dr. Alexander Grant Ruthven, implied it would be higher than the $7,500 Kipke received.

Yost expressed pleasure at Crisler's acceptance, and added:

"His previous experience in the Big Ten qualifies him for the job. He should be entirely acceptable to Michigan alumni everywhere. He merits their loyalty and co-operation. If we obtain that we'll soon be leading the football parade again."

PEDEN "RECEPTIVE"
Cincinnati, Feb. 10—(AP)—Don Peden, veteran football mentor of Ohio University at Athens, O., said here today he would be "receptive" to an offer to succeed Fritz Crisler as coach at Princeton university.

Chicago, Feb. 10—(AP)—Jim Jordan, "Fibber McGee" of radio, has purchased a part interest in Milt Aron, promising young Dubuque, Iowa, welterweight boxer.

Jordan will share in Aron's purses, while Benny Ray will continue to handle the boxer's match-making and ring affairs. Ray said Jordan paid $5,000 for a 17 1/2 per cent interest in the youngster.

Four More Games Left
On Dixon Cage Schedule
Before Region TourneySharpshooters To Strive For First
Division Berth

Nearing the close of its regular season's schedule the Dixon high basketballers leave tomorrow evening at 5:30 o'clock for Rochelle in the hopes of duplicating their victory of January 7.

After the Rochelle game only two more conference games will remain on the schedule, Sterling and DeKalb both of whom have beaten the Sharpshooters this season. The next Sterling game will be at the Coliseum in that city Friday, February 18, while DeKalb's invasion of Dixon will wind up the schedule, Friday, February 25. After that the Purple and White team will have a week to prepare for the regional tournament here and its opening round game with Amboy.

Pay Return Visit
On Saturday night this week, Princeton's Tigers will pay a return visit to Dixon after absorbing a drubbing 41 to 25 at Dixon's hands last Saturday night in Princeton. The Princeton contest will be the last non-conference game on the schedule this winter. Coach L. E. Sharpe's boys are not expecting much trouble in defeating the Tigers again although in a high school basketball game, always unpredictable, anything might happen to upset the dope and give the Tigers the better of the argument.

In the North Central conference the DeKalb Barbs still lead the parade with an unbeaten record of five straight games, and Sterling, nearest challenger to this record is three games behind having lost to many contests in six starts to date. Dixon is slowly slimming toward a first division position which the locals expect to attain by defeating Rochelle. Whether or not they can hold it will depend on the measure of their improvement in the coming Sterling and DeKalb games compared with their previous performance against these quintets.

NARRAGANSETT
TRACK PROMISED
CONSIDERATION

Providence, R. I., Feb. 10—(AP)—Walter E. O'Hara's resignation as president and managing director of the Narragansett Racing Association brought from Gov. Robert E. Quinn today a promise of "every reasonable consideration" for the track.

Quinn, the turfman's foremost political foe in a five-month battle, declined to comment on prospects for the 1938 racing season, but said: "If the association has divorced itself of Mr. O'Hara, the state of Rhode Island stands ready to give it every reasonable consideration." Quinn's repeated assertion that Narragansett never would be permitted to operate in Rhode Island while O'Hara was at its head was enforced with bayonets last October when the governor called out militia to prevent the park's full meeting.

O'Hara severed his connections at the expensive racing plant in nearby Pawtucket yesterday only an hour or two before stockholders were to ballot on proposals to remove him. Joseph A. L. Duffy, track treasurer, resigned with him.

Judge James E. Dooley, vice president, said the association would give O'Hara $25,000 and a life insurance policy in return for cancellation of his contract as managing director, which had three years to run.

Dooley announced he would take charge of the track pending election of a new president at the annual meeting in June.

New York state spends $134.13 annually, more than any other state, for the education of each child in its public schools.

In 1929 there were 513 persons with a net income of a million a year, an all time high.

SAN FRANCISCO
OPEN GOLF MEET
HIT BY WEATHERPlenty of Room For Better Scores By All Contestants

San Francisco, Feb. 10—(AP)—With plenty of room for improvement on all sides, including the weather, golf's touring professionals and a sprinkling of amateurs tee off today in the second qualifying round of the $5,000 San Francisco match play open.

Thirty-two qualifying positions are open for match play, starting tomorrow. A red hot scramble was forecast as the result of yesterday's first round scores that soared to record high figures.

Pacing the field of some 135 players who remained after yesterday's debacle was Charles Congdon of Tacoma, Wash. He posted a first round of 73, four strokes over par 36-53—71 on the San Francisco club course.

Good Score Despite Gale

Congdon shot 38-37 despite a gale which toppled trees, fences and even the scoreboard. Rain whipped the course into a soggy condition.

"The wind was so strong it blew shots all over the course. Byron Nelson of Reading, Pa., said he hit one that traveled 150 yards off line."

Veteran professionals were almost unanimous in the statement they never had experienced more difficult playing conditions.

A stroke behind the leader was Lawson Little, winner of the San Francisco open last year, a champion in his amateur days and the starting favorite. Little, a noted match play competitor, posted 42-34-76.

Pittsburgh Teams Have New Athletic Restrictions Now

Pittsburgh, Feb. 10—(AP)—Two changes in athletic policy, one designed to place the University of Pittsburgh's teams under the same "restrictions as those of the Ivy league" and "Big Ten," go into effect March 1.

One change shifts control from athletic council of the university to a newly organized, all-faculty committee.

The other revises the code of eligibility standards at the university to compare "with any in effect at Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Cornell or the Big Ten conference," said Chancellor John G. Bowman of Pitt, who made the announcement.

These changes top a program of athletic policy revision that began last fall with announcement of the "Hagan plan," which eliminated athletic scholarships and subsidies.

Mrs. Jameson advanced with a hard-earned 1 up victory over Lilian Zech of Chicago, while Mrs. Hockenjos eliminated Laddie Irwin of Montclair, N. J., 6 and 5.

HORNER BACKERS
NEED CANDIDATE
TO FINISH SLATEPrepare For War With Kelly-Nash Group in Primary

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 9—(AP)—Governor Horner's Democratic followers needed only a candidate for superintendent of public instruction today to complete their state ticket in the April primary war against the still unannounced opposition to come from the Kelly-Nash Chicago organization.

The Horner steering committee again ignored John A. Wieland of Calumet City, the incumbent superintendent, when T. V. Smith of Chicago again ignored John A. Wieland of Thomas L. O'Hern, Peoria attorney, were endorsed for congressmen-at-large late yesterday.

Smith and O'Hern were added to the ticket headed by Congressman Scott W. Lucas of Havana, the only senatorial candidate who has filed nomination petitions.

Senator William H. Dieterich, opposed by the governor, has announced for a second term and U. S. District Attorney Michael L. Igoe of Chicago has been boomed as a major possibility for backing by the Chicago Democrats, who so far have made no state-wide endorsements.

Refuse Endorsement
F. Lynden Smith, general campaign manager for the Horner forces, said his steering committee definitely refused to endorse Wieland, who has filed for renomination "on his record."

Postponing an endorsement, the committee met behind guarded doors and adopted a resolution saying:

"Inasmuch as the department of public instruction deals with the educational development of the state and inasmuch as the Kelly-Nash organization has seen fit to endorse John Wieland, it is the belief of this committee that such an important office should not be made a political football."

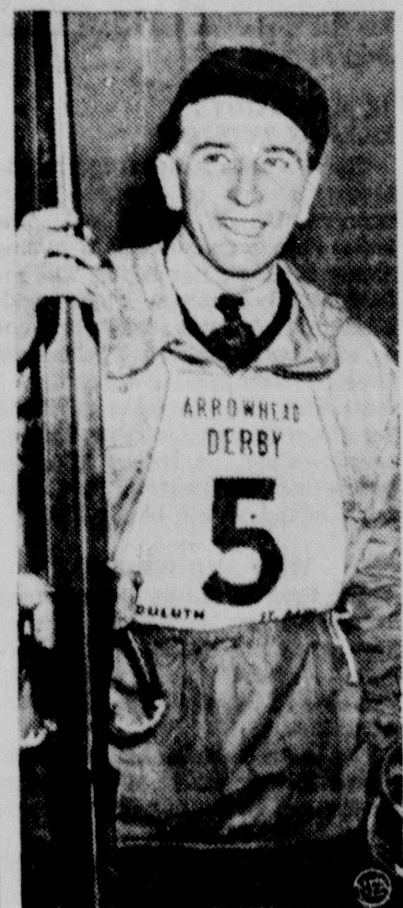

The Horner men indicated they might endorse a candidate against Wieland later in the campaign. Several names have been under consideration. Part of the strategy was to wait for Wieland, who backed the anti-Horner ticket in the 1936 primary split, to become definitely aligned with the Chicago campaign.

Long Rejected

Also rejected for renomination was Lewis M. Long of Sandwich. The other congressman-at-large, E. V. Champion of Peoria, is retiring.

Thomas V. Smith, philosophy professor at the University of Chicago, is finishing his first term in the state senate. Of independent leanings in regard to Illinois leadership, he conducted a series of radio broadcasts two years ago in behalf of the Democratic national committee.

SKI MARATHON

Peter Fosseide of Duluth has good reason to smile. Fosseide won the 153-mile ski derby from Duluth to St. Paul, the longest cross-country marathon of its kind in American history. The race was run in five heats, with overnight stop. The victor's traveling time was 28 hours 44 minutes and 32 seconds.

Average Points Drop
The Big Ten figures, in championship games only, show that the average per contest for the first 12 engagements this season was 79 points. A year ago for the same number of battles, the average was 67 points. However, for 31 games this year, the figure has faded off to about 72 points, a drop of seven points. In 1937, the average at the same stage of the campaign—34 games—was 66, a dip of only one point.

In spite of the speeding-up progress, this year's top team average is less than the best mark at this time a year ago. In 1937, Purdue's Boilermakers had turned in better than 42 points a game. This year's leader, Wisconsin, has operated on a flat point-a-minute basis—40 points a game.

Alli-Day Meeting Enjoyed by Loyal Workers Yesterday

The Loyal Workers class of the M. E. church met on Wednesday in the church parlors for an all-day meeting. This was the regular "rag bee". Mrs. Jennie Wahl was hostess and Mrs. Alice James, Mrs. Kizzie Rix and Esther Carlson were assistant hostesses. A scramble luncheon was served at noon. The hostesses provided creamed chicken and hot biscuits. The dining room presented a pretty picture with three long tables decorated in green and red, significant of a St. Valentine party. The centerpieces were small potted plants of Irish moss and geraniums surrounded by small hearts forming a huge heart. Cupid's arrows and entwined hearts were visible everywhere on the white linen cloth. The place cards were dainty valentines.

About thirty ladies and one guest, Rev. Street, enjoyed the delightful luncheon. Mrs. Adolph Schrader presented the class with a huge angel food cake. Much of the food brought by the ladies was in red and added to the color scheme.

After luncheon Rev. Street took charge of the devotion. He spoke on the "Tenderness of God's Mercy" and closed with a prayer. Miss Melhner conducted a short business session and the secretary's report was read and approved. Mrs. Sanders reported 135 dozen doughnuts made, making $29.11. A vote of thanks was given her and her daughter's family and Fred Perkins for their untiring efforts in making the sale a success.

Rev. Street spoke of the plans of the church for the Lenten season. Miss Melhner read a clipping from the Bureau County Republican stating the church council would have a large attendance to hear DeWitt Jones on Feb. 11 in Princeton. A vote of thanks was given Mrs. Miller and her committee in securing the large amount of rags for the rag bee.

You and Your Nation's Affairs

Looking for Teamwork

By ERIK MCKINLEY ERIKSSON
Professor of History, University of Southern California

As Congress swings into its regular 1938 session, the most important question before the country is "How can the recession be halted?"

Industrialists, businessmen and politicians alike are busily engaged in seeking an answer to the question. Regardless of what may have been the attitude of the people at the time of the 1936 election, it should be clear to even the most rabid of the economic planners that the country now wants prosperity more than it wants reform.

Unquestionably, a powerful influence in producing the so-called recession has been the unfriendly attitude of the federal government towards business and industry. This attitude has been reflected in the speeches of prominent administration officials and in the numerous reform measures which have characterized the New Deal.

The feeling of uncertainty which has gripped the businessmen and industrialists of the country could be quickly dispelled if the administration would give public evidence of a willingness to cooperate with the economic interests. It would be too much to expect "this administration to lie down, roll over and get up and jump through a hoop," General Hugh S. Johnson recently warned the nation's industrialists. He thought, however, that there was reason to hope for "a shift from the radical idea that you can have a half-socialistic and half-capitalistic system at the same time in this country."

Whether or not the hope for a shift in the administration viewpoint is justified, there is at least some reason for optimism in the continued independence of Congress. While the special session paved the way for further regimentation of the farmers the rest of the neo-New Deal reform and control program was side-tracked, at least temporarily. The action of the House, on December 17th, in recommitting the wages and hours bill to the labor committee lends encouragement to the belief that Congress will go no further in regimenting again the business and industry of the country. The rest of the President's "must" program made no progress in the special session.

On the whole, then, what Congress did not do in the special session, which should not have been called for encouragement. But the "fog of uncertainty" has by no means been dispelled. The country is still threatened with what has been aptly described as "legislative indecision and administrative strangulation."

What is needed in Washington is a realization that the government exists for the whole nation. It is high time to pay attention to the A.B.C.'s of economics and of constitutionality. Playing "fast and loose" with the Constitution together with legislative and administrative attempts to abrogate the law of supply and demand have produced chiefly confusion and uncertainty.

To check the recession will require a definite change in governmental attitudes. Is it too much to ask when the welfare of the whole nation is at stake? If faulty measures have been enacted, is it unreasonable to ask for their repeal or modification?

Specifically, there is a crying need for repeal or drastic change in the corporation surplus tax and in the tax on capital gains. The whole tax structure needs simplification and stabilization. The budget should be balanced by cutting governmental costs. The Wagner Labor Relations Act should be amended so as to make it fair not only to labor, but also to the employers and the public. Amending the Federal Housing Act may help but housing legislation alone will not stop the recession.

Emilie Becomes Web-Footed

(Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.)
Emilie sets forth on the great adventure, her first meeting with snowshoes. She looks just a little dubious as Nurse Noel attaches the big web to her foot, as though to say, "What a funny kind of thing to walk on!"

All Set for the Big Adventure

(Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.)
So far, so good! Emilie stands up while Nurse Noel completes the fastening of the snowshoe. "Why, this isn't going to be so bad, after all," Emilie reflects. "I think I can manage these all right." She's rarin' to go any minute now!

Mushing Along Like a Veteran

(Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.)
"Nothing to it!" Emilie seems to say as she strides boldly forth across the deep snow, just like an Indian guide in a northern frontier story. Notice that nonchalant air, the easy swing of her stride, and her pride of accomplishment.

Ooops! Not so Easy, After All!

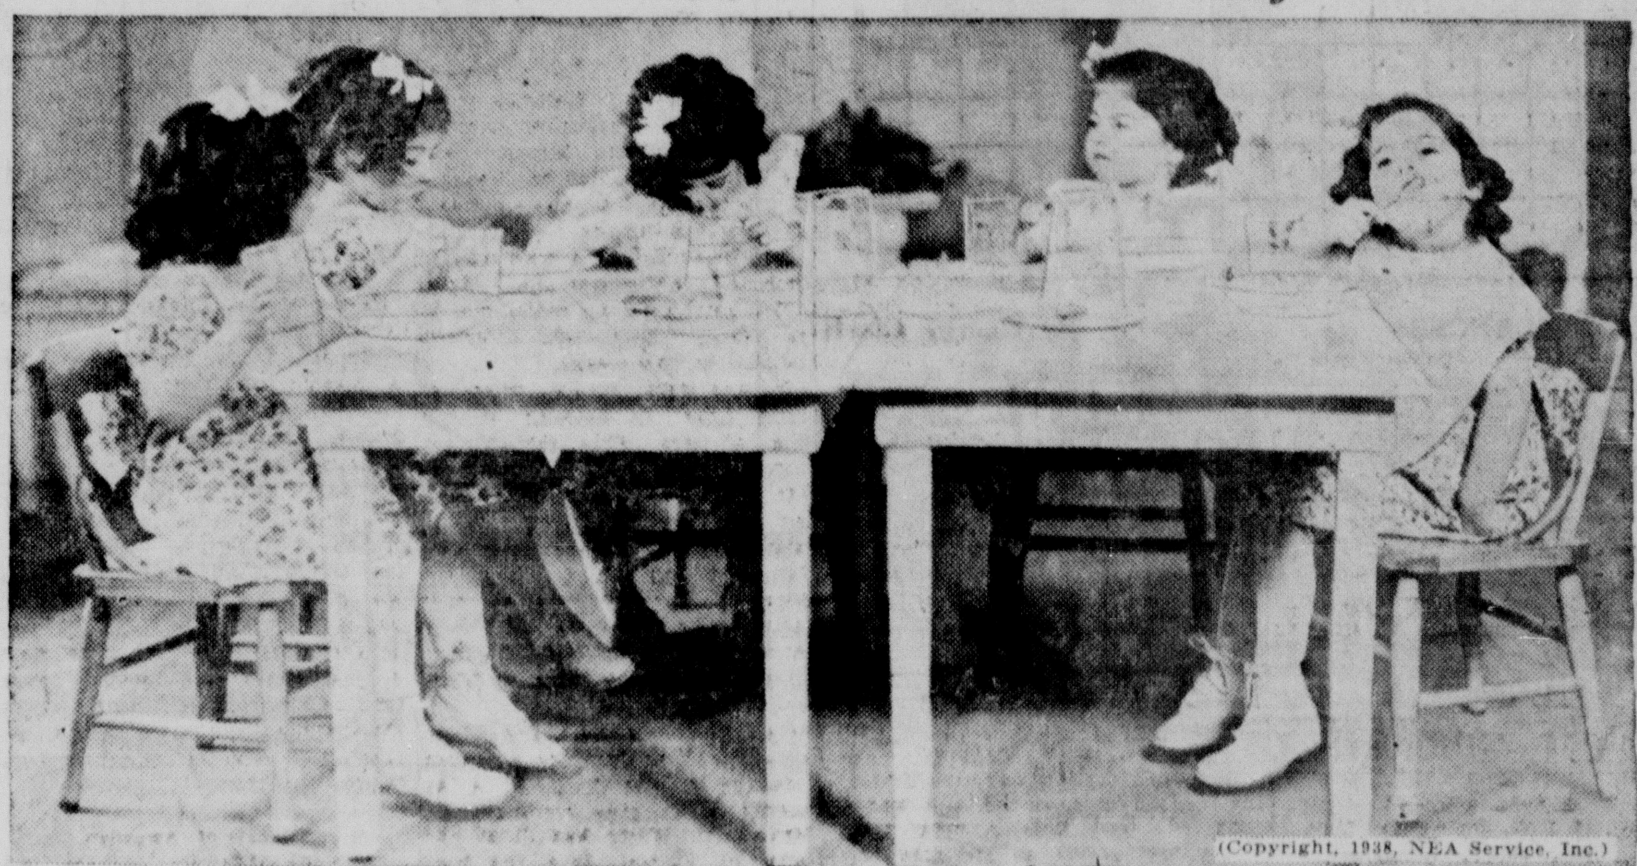

(Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.)
But "pride goeth before a fall," and now something is all tangled up with those big flat snowshoes! Emilie stumbles, and is just in the midst of taking a header into a snowdrift as the camera clicks. And so winds up another winter adventure!

Quints Get Thrills on Their Own Toboggan Slide in Dionneville

(Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.)
Here's action for you, and proof that what goes up must come down! The Dionne quints, like little polar teddy-bears, are showing you their toboggan-chute. That's Dr. Dafoe putting his hands on Emilie's head as she completes a slide, and that's Marie who's starting up the wrong chute. She'd better watch out, or Annette will be running her down. Yvonne and Cecile are going up the right way, using the cleared incline. Six or seven feet may not look high to grownups, but it's a squeal-provoking thrill when you're "going-on-four."

Callander, Ont.—Slight head colds which have put the Dionne quintuplets to bed for perhaps a week failed utterly to dampen their ardor for play and pranks. Nurses charged with keeping the children quiet were in despair at the noisy squealings which rang from bed to bed with the same gusto which marks their antics at quints, noting the change from the picture at the left.
Dr. Dafoe regarded without concern the fact that three of the little girls lost weight in January, noting that weight fluctuation of the children quiet were in despair at quints has always been more marked in winter than in summer. The January 28 figures on the table in the picture at the left, Dec. 28, are as follows:
Weight Change
Marie 30 1/2 1 1/2 loss
Emilie 34 1/2 3/4 loss
Cecile 34 1/2 1 loss
Yvonne 37 1/2 same
Annette 35 1/2 same
Marie 37 1/2 same
Height (inches) Change

Emilie 37 1/4 inch

Wed 48 Years—Part—House Too

Wed 48 years and parents of four children, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bowman of near Knoxville, Tenn., finally decided that they just couldn't live in the same house any longer. So they saved their old frame home in two and Mrs. Bowman moved her kitchen, small room and back porch (right foreground in top picture) 30 yards away from Mr. Bowman's two front rooms and porch (left at top). Now they are maintaining separate residences. Said Mrs. Bowman (inset): "He's just an old fox hunter." Said Mr. Bowman between tools on his fox horn: "She talks too much."

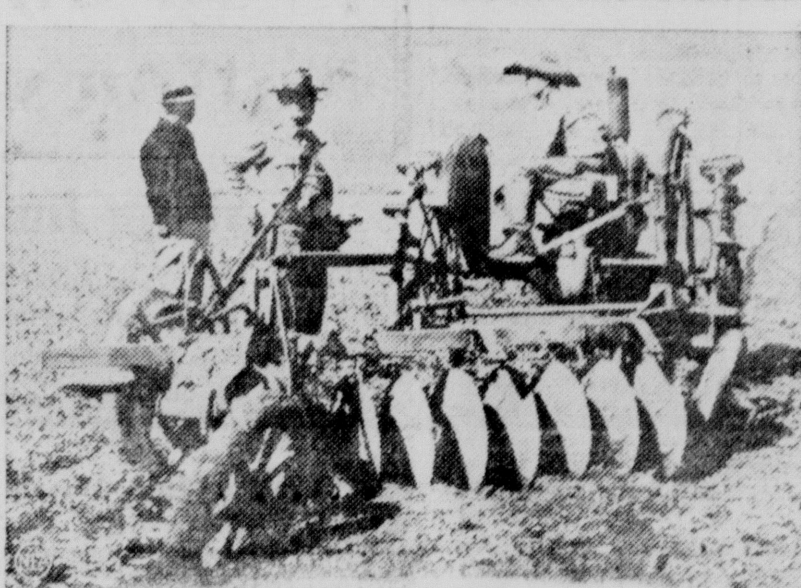

STORIES IN STAMPS

"VICTORY OF SAMOTHRACE"
EARLY in the progress of Greek sculpture, the ancients showed remarkable proficiency in the use of draperies for their classic marble figures. But the first lines were severe.
Then the influence of the great Scopas and of Lysippus appeared. Scopas had collaborated with other sculptors in the massive decoration of the Mausoleum of Halicarnassus. Lysippus was one of the most prolific of his art. Together they introduced a new classic realism to the work of draperies for their figures.
And the most remarkable example of this accomplishment is the "Winged Victory of Samothrace." Set up by Demetrius Poliorcetes, the striking statue was found on the island of Samothrace in the Aegean sea in 1863. It is now in the famous Louvre art gallery in Paris. Broken and badly scarred, it nevertheless bears significant testimony to the achievements of the early Greek sculptors. The "Victory of Samothrace" is shown here on a special French postage stamp issued recently.

Gone: 1400 Acres of Dream Stuff

Farmers who planted 1400 acres to hemp along the Rio Grande near Raymondville, Texas, didn't know that the habit-forming drug marihuana, may be gathered from hemp during certain stages of its growth. U. S. Customs agents ordered the crop plowed under last year. Seeds carried by the wind resowed the fields, however, and another plowing under was necessary. Customs agents are shown above supervising the job.

What Do YOU Think It Is?

Harris Connick, new executive director of the Golden Gate International Exposition which is to be held in San Francisco next year, contends the above bit of sculpture looks like a woman pushing a peanut with her nose after losing an election bet. Terming Mr. Connick an "old fuddy-duddy," Cecile Graham, who created the figure for the exposition, retorts that the work represents a South American woman grinding corn. "Art," the sculptor added, "should stimulate the imagination." Well, what do you think it looks like?

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

IF THE EARTH ROTATED ON ITS AXIS 18 TIMES FASTER THAN IT DOES, WE WOULD BE THROWN OFF INTO SPACE IF WE WENT TOO NEAR THE EQUATOR.

A BOTTLE THROWN FROM THE STEAMER BIRMINGHAM, OFF THE COAST OF MEXICO, WAS PICKED UP 8,000 MILES AWAY, ACROSS THE PACIFIC, LESS THAN TWO YEARS LATER.

"A BIRD IN THE BUSH IS WORTH TWO IN THE HAND," MOTTO OF A NATIONALLY KNOWN BIRD MAGAZINE.

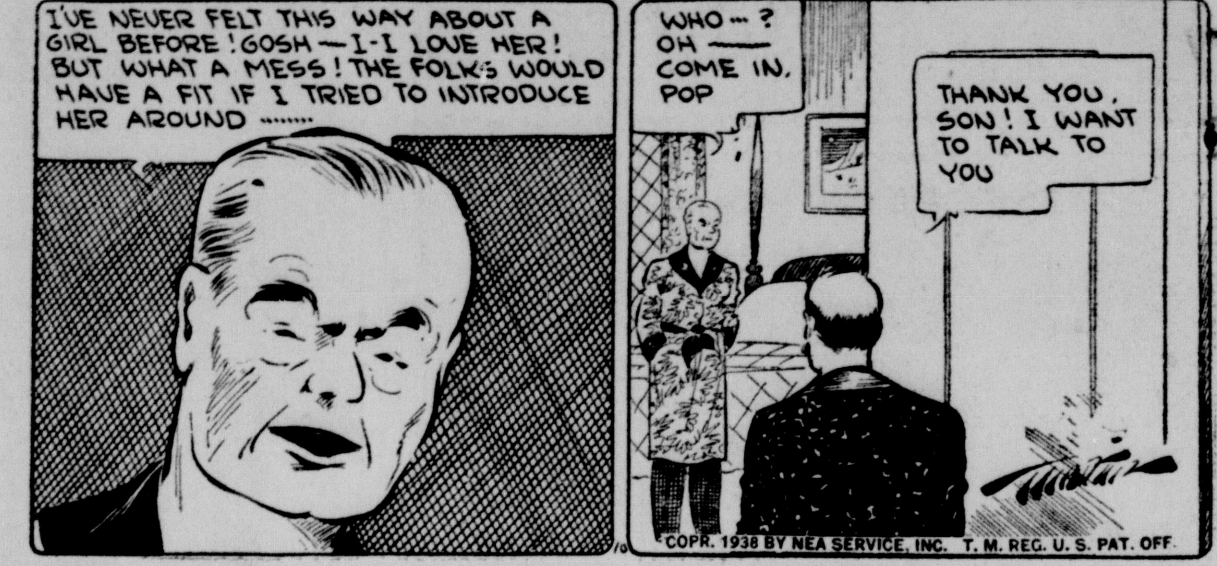

AS the earth rotates on its axis, the surface at the equator travels fastest. For this reason, if the earth were to increase its rotation speed, the centrifugal force would be felt first in the equatorial regions. As a matter of fact, even now, objects at the equator weigh less than they would at the poles, due to centrifugal force.

For Love of Polly

By RACHEL MACK

Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
POLLY CHELSEY, heroine; stranded in London when war breaks out.
JERRY WHITFIELD, hero;
 the Yankee who sees her through.
CARELL BANKS, privateer
 captain.

Yesterday, Jerry and Polly have dinner together in the inn on the eve of their departure across the Channel.

CHAPTER VII

POLLY and Jerry held hands while they watched the colorful changing of the guard at Buckingham Palace. They stood with shoulders touching while they leaned on the timbers of London Bridge, gazing down into the Thames. They looked into each other's eyes as they fed the pigeons before St. Paul's Cathedral.
 Yet they talked of everything but love.

"London takes my breath away," Polly said as they neared the inn at day's end. "I'm right proud my mother's people were Londoners." Jerry nodded. "England's a wonder, all over. I'm proud of having English blood myself. But England's too arrogant. America will have to lick her again."

"Hush, Jerry! You'll be overheard. . . Who's that woman waiving to you?"

"Where, Polly?"

"Across the street. . . Look! In the blue bonnet. She's just gotten out of a hackney coach."

"I doubt if she's waving to me," Jerry said, puzzled. She was a pretty thing, becomingly dressed and having a gay air. Jerry lifted his hat and bowed while his tanned face turned crimson. "She mistakes me for somebody else, I reckon."

The young woman gave him a warm intimate smile and went into a shop. "She thinks she knows you very well," Polly said, piqued.
 "Jerry, I believe she does know you! Why are you being so innocent about it?"

"If I knew her," Jerry replied brusquely, "I'd say so. I've got no taste for mysteries."

THEY both looked at the rather shabby public vehicle out of which the young woman had just stepped. The driver was a large man in a cabby's uniform. Had they been closer, they would have seen that he had a torn ear and a nose that had been several times broken and carelessly mended.

"Well, Jerry," Polly argued,
 "you don't look like anybody else
 I've seen in London. I'd not confuse you with other men. No woman would. Of course that girl knows you! You've met her somewhere. I reckon you've paid her compliments, or she wouldn't be speaking to you so—"

"So how?" It was an irritated challenge.

"So like she had some claim on
 you. She looked square at you!
 What's more, you bowed to her,
 Jerry Whitfield!"

"Of course I did. Just to be polite."

"But you smiled at her!"

"I didn't!"

"You did!"

"Now you're being rude. You save your good manners for London ladies, and you shout at me because I'm just a Connecticut village girl."

"For a little bit," Jerry said hotly, "I'd turn you over my knee and whale you. Where and when would I meet any London girls like that?"

"After the theater," Polly replied with unaccountable feminine shrewdness. "After they're through acting in the play. You told me you'd been to Drury Lane, time and again."

"So I have."

"And I suppose you'll try to tell me you didn't notice one girl from another?"

"No, I won't," Jerry retorted angrily. "I didn't meet any of them, but there were at least three I used to clap for. And one night I sent them bouquets, all three of 'em!"

"Well, then, there you are!"
 cried Polly triumphantly, but not enjoying the triumph. "Did you put a card in, or a note?"

"No, I didn't, but I wish I had.
 Just to give you something to carry on about!"

WHILE this argument was in progress they had entered the tavern, passed through the public room and ascended the stairs. At her door Polly took out a large brass key from her pocket and inserted it in the lock. "Won't you come in?" she asked tartly. "I'd like to hear some more of your adventures. They must be wonderful."

She threw open the door, and Jerry followed her in, for the quarrel was in that exhilarating state of fermentation when neither wished to abandon it. He walked to the window and looked down on the street while she closed the door.

"Hasn't she come out of the shop yet?" Polly inquired, removing her bonnet before a looking glass. "I thought her dress was right gaudy for the street. Maybe she's gone in to buy something more suitable."

Jerry whirled about and seized Polly's hands. He drew her near to him, so that their faces were close. "You're a jealous little cat,"

Polly Chelsey. You're nobody's angel. You'd be hard to handle—"
 "Yes, Jerry," she said tenderly, meltingly. "I reckon that's so. . .
 Oh, Jerry, don't you see how it is? I've never taken a sweetheart before. I seem to want all of you —even the past that happened before you'd ever heard of me. I reckon this is being in love. It was feeling like this, I guess, that made my mother go to America in Trepid Chelsey's ship and marry him." Her arms crept around Jerry's neck and she was answering his kiss.

After a moment they drew apart and Jerry said, confused and shaken, "We're talking of love again, and I said I'd not till I got you home to your father! How has this happened?"

"Because we quarreled," Polly answered simply.

THEY resumed their New England reserve then, as they might have put on topcoats in a storm. But it was not the same.
 Beneath the reserve there throbbed the intimacy of the emotion they had shared.

"Tell me what o'clock we're to start in the morning," Polly said,
 "so I'll not keep the coach waiting."

"I'll knock on your door soon after daylight. You must get up at once and dress and pack your clothes. Then we'll have breakfast and wait in the courtyard for the Dover coach. I've spoken for two seats. . . Take your money now, Polly. I'll be best for you to carry it. Can you hide it about your person?"

"Yes. I've a doekins bag for that purpose. Will there be any trouble about the dog in the coach, Jerry?"

"I don't think so. If there is, I can take him on top. I'll go down now and have a look at him before I turn in."

"You're so kind, Jerry. How could I have been so cross to you?
 How could I have been so hateful?"

"I know more about typhoons," Jerry said with a grin, "than about lovers' quarrels. And I believe it's easier to handle a ship than a woman. Good night, Polly."

He bent and kissed the palm of each of her hands, thinking of what some future night must bring in danger—the English Channel and the dark uncertainty of a smuggler's crossing. Could he bring her safely through it? These were his thoughts.

"Good night, Jerry!"

She thought only of how his dark hair curled as his head bent over her hands.

GIVE NEW BASIS TO JOURNALISM AT UNIVERSITY

Chicago, Feb. 10—(AP)—The Northwestern University board of trustees has approved reorganization of the Medill School of Journalism to make it the first institution of its kind in the country to be placed on a professional basis similar to schools of law and medicine.

Under the new plan, approved by the board yesterday, the journalism course will be extended from four to five years and education in the social sciences will be stressed as a background for the specialized studies in editorial and advertising work.

A master of science in journalism degree will be awarded at the end of the fifth year.

The program will become effective this fall. Kenneth E. Olson, now director of the journalism branch, will hold the title of dean.

GRAIN DEALERS OPPOSE FEDERAL WORK CREATION

The program was developed by Olson in cooperation with American Newspaper Publishers Association, the American Society of Newspaper Editors, the National Editorial Association and the Inland Daily Press Association.

"If schools of journalism have any justification for existence," Dean Olson said, "it is to provide the kind of educational background that a newspaper man needs, plus enough of technical and professional courses to make graduates immediately useful to their employers."

The Medill school was established in 1921.

These officers were reelected:
 L. E. Riley, Pleasant Plains, president; Charles Holz, Onarga, vice president; Charles Fairfield, Fisher,
 treasurer, and Lawrence Farlow,
 Bloomington, secretary.

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 10—(AP)—Resolutions opposing Federal work-creating legislation were adopted yesterday by the Farmers Grain Dealers Association at the closing session of its 35th convention.

Delegates passed resolutions opposing the pending grain limitation and six-hour bills as well as the proposed rule of the commodity exchange administration, providing that trading in grain futures for any delivery month be stopped on the 20th day of that month.

These officers were reelected:
 L. E. Riley, Pleasant Plains, president; Charles Holz, Onarga, vice
 president; Charles Fairfield, Fisher,
 treasurer, and Lawrence Farlow,
 Bloomington, secretary.

Joseph Henebery, Jr., of Plainfield, was named a director to fill the vacancy caused by the death of his father. Other directors, re-elected, were H. J. Grieve, Edinburg; E. T. Miller, Stanford; J. C.
 McCreery, Mason City; Lee Mellinger,
 Cerro Gordo; V. C. Mitchell,
 Peru, and J. P. Becker, Tremont.

A smile of real satisfaction and joy wreathes Marie's face as she gets up off the toboggan after a slide and grasps the rope, ready to pull back up to the top.

(Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.)

Now Marie gets ready for another slide, this time with Yvonne.
 Not hitch-hiking are you, Marie? She is well-dusted with snow after a tumble, and notice how she clings to Yvonne's shoulders as the two make ready for another fast ride. All the quints take to snow in winter as readily as to water in summer.

Mt. Vernon Firm Is Cited by NLRB For
"Unfair Practice"

Mount Vernon, Ill., Feb. 9.—(AP)— Attorneys Charles Wham of Centralia, and Harmon Gilbert left for Washington today to appear before the national labor relations board in behalf of the Mount Vernon Car Manufacturing Company, cited for alleged "unfair labor practices."
The hearing will be held Friday.
The Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers of America, a CIO affiliate, lodged the complaint. The union asserted the company signed a contract with the Brother of Railway Carmen of America, an AFL union, to the exclusion of the CIO group. An examiner began a hearing at Mount Vernon, but the case was transferred to the labor board as a whole.

The company employs about 1-400 men.

The United States is Germany's best customer for cameras and other photographic goods, taking 126 metric tons of a total of 669 tons exported in nine months.

CAVIAR TO LIVESTOCK
Austin, Tex.—(AP)—Citrus peel, which the Texas planning board reports was a troublesome problem for Rio Grande valley citrus juice canneries, has been converted into livestock food and is a regularly quoted commodity on feed market.

The peel, the board says, is fed into dehydrating machines where all moisture is removed. It is then cut into small pieces and sacked.
Having the appearance of prepared breakfast food, the meal has a bitter taste but one palatable to livestock.

The board says canneries formerly were dumped between rows of citrus trees as fertilizer.
